

Ottawa May Beat Us to Traffic-Free Mall

OTTAWA (UPI)—The capital may be the first Canadian city to ban traffic from its main downtown street in favor of trees, flowers and pedestrians.

The success of shopping mall experiments in the United States has resulted in study by civic officials and businessmen of the idea of turning a section of bustling Sparks Street into a traffic-free shopping mall.

Members of the Ottawa Board of Trade, led by Mayor George Nelms, are scheduled to visit Toledo, Ohio, next week to inspect the U.S. city's shopping mall.

The proposal to make a section of the main business district a tree and shrub-lined plaza was backed by town planner Jacques Greber, who suggested a three-block-long mall along Sparks between Elgin and Bank.

Mayor Nelms said he was making the Toledo trip only as "an Ottawa merchant" but he indicated he would send a city official to other U.S. shopping malls if he was favorably impressed on the board of trade junket.

Ottawa businessmen were said to be in favor of such a plan, on an experimental basis, at least. The board of trade's special charter flight gave ample proof of their interest.

Sparks Street, running east and west one block south of Parliament Hill, was said to be an ideal site

'DELIGHTED' THINKING HAS CAUGHT UP

The possibility that Ottawa

Canadian city to establish a proved a mall plan last year,

brought this wry comment

from Chamber of Commerce

secretary-manager John Cop-

"We're delighted to learn

thinking in Ottawa has caught

"We hope it's not going to be too long before Victoria has a mall although we do wish

Ottawa all speed in establishing its own."

The $1,000,000 View Street parking garage and pedestrian mall, approved by ratepayers

last December, was to have been ready by this Christmas.

However, the project was delayed by a court action opened by ex-alderman J. Donald

Smith, and city council recently decided to re-submit the by-law this December as the only method of getting an early start on the project next year.

Mr. Smith now says he is for the project. It presently is a comparatively narrow one-way street and traffic could be re-routed to nearby streets without too much difficulty.

Early discussions on the subject included the proposal of a one-year experiment to determine the effect of the shopping mall on Ottawa's business establishments, stores, traffic conditions on surrounding streets and civic beauty in summer and winter.

Some Ottawa businessmen fear the mall would be another major factor, in addition to traffic tie-ups and parking problems, which would keep people out of the downtown area.

The removal of street-cars from Sparks Street earlier this year was the first big step towards reduction of the hectic downtown rush. Residents of the capital hoped removal of the traffic would do even more to make shopping more pleasant.

Just 8 Ounces To Kill Everyone

(See also Page 3)

PUGWASH, N.S. (UPI)—A leading western scientist told a "thinkers' conference" today of the availability of a possible biological weapon which "could kill off every human being on our planet."

Sir Robert Watson-Watt described the potential death weapon as a "toxic substance of which a total quantity of eight ounces, appropriately distributed, could kill off every human being on our planet."

Watson-Watt told 25 scientists from nine countries that the inconvenience of distributing biological agents of destruction is offset by the complete secrecy which can be achieved in manufacture, and the unobtrusiveness and cheapness of the distribution process available.

Watson-Watt, a British scientist who now makes his home in Toronto, is credited largely with the invention of radar in the Second World War.

He said, in referring to the dangers of official secrecy surrounding research in potential biological and chemical weapons, that the average taxpayer should be made aware of what is being done "in his name, with his money for his presumed good."

Ike Pledges Western Unity On Eve of European Visit

Round of Talks Opens in Bonn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today one purpose of his trip to Europe is to pledge Western unity "in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression" against the Allies.

The president also told a press conference that on his trip, starting Wednesday, he wants to pledge once again "America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Eisenhower met with reporters about 14 hours in advance of his scheduled departure for conferences with leaders of West Germany, Britain and France.

His talks with them will be a prelude to his discussions with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Washington starting Sept. 12, and to his own planned visit to the Soviet Union later in the fall.

The President will take off early Wednesday, by jet plane.

On the trip to Europe, Eisenhower will meet first in Bonn with West German Chancellor Adenauer; in London with Prime Minister Macmillan, and in France with President de Gaulle.

At the outset of the press conference, Eisenhower announced he wanted to read a statement.

Reading from it, he then said his trip to Europe has several purposes, and added that one is:

"To pledge, once again, in several capitals I shall visit, America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Unity 'By Force if Necessary'

Next in clear words of caution obviously directed to the Soviet Union, the President said a further purpose of his journey is:

"To support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression; and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security."

Besides their caution to Russia, the President's words seemed intended also as reassurance to Adenauer and de Gaulle—both of whom are reported to have misgivings about the President's forthcoming talks with Khrushchev that under no circumstances will he make any deals behind their backs.

In his statement, Eisenhower said further that he intends to suggest to the Western leaders that the Allies "restate our readiness to negotiate realistically with the Soviets on any reasonable and mutually enforceable plan for general or special disarmament."

President Eisenhower also called for "a real beginning toward solving the problems of a divided Germany," and new efforts to ease world tensions.

In pursuing these purposes, Eisenhower said, the Allies also should reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement, "we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue the search for peace."

It is unlikely that Eisenhower's discussions of a few hours each with the other Western leaders can solve knotty issues of long standing. But it is hoped here that the personal contacts will strengthen Western unity and make future solutions easier.

Reports from abroad indicated his toughest tasks would be met.

B.C. FAMILY FEARED DEAD

39 Still Missing In 'Quake Area'

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirty-nine persons still were unaccounted for in this southwest Montana resort area today, one week after the earthquake that rocked the Canadian and American west.

At one time Monday, the Red Cross listed as many as 88 persons as possibly missing. Many of these were located alive and well.

Nine persons were killed and a 10th is missing and presumed dead.

At Nelson, B.C., friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney D. A. Ballard have been advised by the Red Cross that the Canadian couple and their crippled nine-year-old son, Christopher, may have died in the earthquake.

The Red Cross emergency centre at Bozeman, Mont., sent word to Nelson that a couple evacuated had camped next to

Laos Charges Red Atrocities

VIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters)—Communist rebels filtering through the mountainous jungles of northeast Laos have almost encircled the province of Sam Neua, Laotian military leaders said today.

A senior army officer also said that the Communists had smashed a counter-attack by Laotian troops in Luang Prabang province.

He charged that the guerrillas were committing atrocities in an attempt to spread panic through the area around the city of Luang Prabang, where the Laotian royal family lives.

U.S. Studies Appeal For Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is giving urgent consideration to an appeal from the government of Laos for aid to reinforce its police forces in the face of increasing Communist infiltration.

Eisenhower said he knew the Laotians wanted more money for this purpose.

Asked if he felt Soviet Premier Khrushchev could control the Communist-led rebels in Laos, the president replied that he did not think Khrushchev could control Red China's actions there but that he certainly should have some influence.

Meanwhile State Secretary Christian Herter is reported to have told several members of Congress that "the United Nations may take some part in what is going on in Laos before too long."

TOKYO (AP)—Ho Chi Minh, president of Communist North Viet Nam, left Peking by plane for home today after a three-week visit to Communist China and a month's stay in the Soviet Union.

'DE LUXE' WELCOME FOR MR. K IN U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he intends to meet Nikita S. Khrushchev at the airport when the Soviet premier arrives here Sept. 15.

This resolved the protocol question of whether Khrushchev will be received as chief of state or as head of the Soviet government.

If he were to be received as head of government, under strict protocol he would be welcomed by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower told a press conference that as chairman of the Soviet council of ministers, Khrushchev in effect is head of state.

Protocol people in the state department, following the book, had started planning the welcome for Khrushchev on the No. 2 basis before the White House stepped in.

Bonner Orders Speed Limits, Deaths Probed

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today he has asked his department to investigate the relations between British Columbia's new 60-miles-per-hour speed limits and the alarming increase in road deaths this year.

"So far," he said, "I have received no advice which places the bulk of these casualties in 60-mile zones. As far as police advice is concerned, there is no established connection between them."

Mr. Bonner added that the highways department will review the problem "from their viewpoint" while his department makes a close examination of highway statistics and all available data on accidents.

FIND DANGER SPOTS

"By the end of the summer we should be able to pinpoint the danger spots and then we will confer with officials of the highways department."

"Concern for the mounting casualties on our highways should not cause premature judgment on the 60-mile-an-hour zones. The basic fact of physics cannot be ignored: an accident at 60 miles an hour is more serious than one at 50 or 40."

"But the fact is people want to travel more swiftly, and where highway engineering permits safe travel at 60, we are simply harassing motorists by holding them to 50. In some cases this is unimaginative."

SAW FOR HIMSELF

Mr. Bonner said he had done considerable motoring this summer and his general impression is that few motorists exceed the 60 limit, whereas before many exceeded the 50 limit.

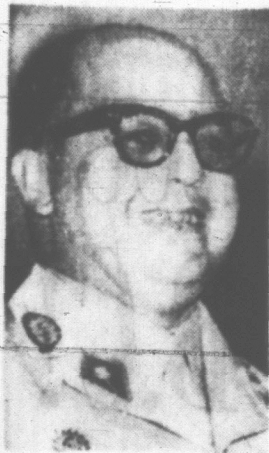

Members of Victoria Automobile Club are divided in their views of the 60-mile limit. Some say it is unsuited to the two-lane highways predominating in B.C. They believe this speed is much safer on the four-lane highways south of the border, because on a four-lane highway it is much safer for a fast-moving car to overtake a slow one.

Furthermore, these highways have controlled access to them—that is, cars do not turn onto them from side roads and private houses.

Other members believe there is a definite need for 60-mile highways in B.C. where conditions are favorable.

LONDON—Rev. Donald Harris said today he was terribly worried about what his parishioners will think of the strip-tease club opened 35 yards from his church, St. Paul's of Knightsbridge.

"It is shocking," he said.

Mr. Harris is known as a "society pastor" because his congregation includes such persons as Lord and Lady Mountbatten.

Ister Gagliardi said he believes the high death rate results from drivers travelling over the posted limit.

"And the primary cause of this is alcohol. I reiterate the statement of the late Dr. G. F. Strong of Vancouver, former president of the Canadian Medical Association, that 80 per cent of accidents are attributable to alcohol."

Posted highway speeds are recommended by trained engineers, Mr. Gagliardi said, and sober motorists should not be inconvenienced by unnecessarily low speeds.

Monday motor vehicles superintendent George Lindsay said he believed the 60 mile limit on some 22 B.C. highways was responsible for raising the total deaths so far this month to 38.

Advised of this today, Premier Bennett declined comment, saying he preferred to leave the matter to "the departments concerned."

One factor being investigated by the highways department is whether there is sufficient distance between a 50 sign and a 45 sign.

Mr. Lindsay has made it clear that he does not agree with all of the zones chosen for 60 m.p.h. limits. He named the Malahat highway as one "which does not lend itself to high speeds, though it is an excellent highway."

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... unblocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carte's Little Liver Pile exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carte's Little Liver Pile. Remember, Carte's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat.

Chemical War Danger Deplored by Nikita

PUGWASH, N.S. (CP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today expressed concern over the dangers of chemical and bacteriological warfare in a telegram to international scientists meeting here to discuss the problem.

Khrushchev's message was received by Nova Scotia-born industrialist Cyrus Eaton, sponsor of the week-long conference.

The Soviet Communist party boss said "... We share the concern of scientists who justly point out that the use of these weapons may have no less horrible a consequence than the use of atomic or hydrogen weapons."

He said the Soviet Union strongly supports the prohibition of all types of weapons of mass annihilation.

"We hold that their use runs counter to humane principles and the conscience of all peoples."

British philosopher Bertrand Russell said Monday there is a possibility of small countries resorting to such weapons because of their cheapness and ease of production.

"This represents a threat to world security," he said.

Lord Russell delivered his opening address to the 25 scientists, representing nine nations including Russia and the United States, by a tape recording. He said he regretted he was unable to make the long journey here from his home in Wales.

The meetings are the fifth in a series initiated in 1957 by Mr. Eaton and held at the financier's "Home for Thinkers." Earlier meetings were concerned with nuclear war.

Lord Russell said biological warfare may be an even greater menace to humanity than the hydrogen bomb.

"Although the cost of human destruction has been reduced to a few pennies a head by the hydrogen bomb," he warned, "biological warfare may make it even cheaper."

Mr. Eaton urged the delegates to give the world the facts "however terrifying they may be."

NFLD. POLIO POSTPONES SCHOOL START

By The Canadian Press
Newfoundland announced Sunday it will delay school openings next month because of the province's polio epidemic.

Quebec education authorities were to meet today to discuss a similar move.

The two provinces have been the hardest hit in a summer surge of polio across the country in which the total number of cases now exceeds 500.

Three children have died in Newfoundland since the outbreak began there in June and 13 youngsters now are being treated in iron lungs.

Dr. G. A. Frecker, the Newfoundland minister of education, said the scheduled Sept. 1 school opening has been postponed until Sept. 14. A further delay may be ordered, depending on the situation.

Health officials in Montreal said Monday that 32 new polio cases had been admitted to Montreal hospitals since Friday to bring the total this year to 444, mostly from suburban and out-of-town points. There have been 28 deaths.

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru promised today to defend Bhutan and Sikkim against any intrusions. His statement was interpreted as a warning to Communist China to keep hands off the little Himalayan states.

Nehru told Parliament that India is responsible for the defence of Bhutan and Sikkim under treaties with the two remote states on the Tibet-India border.

Increasing Communist pressure has been reported on Sikkim and Bhutan since the Chinese crushed the March rebellion in Tibet.

Nehru said reports have reached the government of

Wrestling With the Rate

ON THURSDAY FINANCE Minister Fleming will offer less than the usual weekly $115 millions of 91-day treasury bills for auction and he may refuse the highest bids—as he also did last week—in an effort to bring down the average interest rate prevailing.

The treasury bill rate so established is the basis for the bank rate, which last week receded to 6.29 per cent from its unprecedented high of the week before. The Bank of Canada rate sets the pace for all other bond and loan rates, from the largest governmental or industrial issues to the smallest householder's loan. It is thus a matter of direct concern to every Canadian. What the Government does to try to meet the problems the record rate has created is also the business of each citizen.

The Government, of course, does not directly set interest rates. They are the result of the market and the policies of the Bank of Canada. But the Government can exert influence on the rate, as Mr. Fleming's current device indicates. The position of the Government's finances also plays an important part in the situation, and the present federal deficit of more than half a billion dollars is the background to much of what is happening in the loan market today.

One result of the high interest rates has been a fall in bond prices, since the value of a bond depends on its yield in dollars and cents rather than on the rate printed on its face. When money can earn six per cent, a five per cent bond will not command its full face value. Thus when the chartered banks today must sell off some of their government bond holdings to get cash to lend to the public, they find themselves selling for less than was paid for them.

This has been one factor in causing the banks now to restrict their credit. Another is that the Bank of Canada rate has gone higher than the six per cent the banks are permitted by law to charge. They thus cannot hand on to the public the restrictive effects of the high rate and must resort to curtailment of loans to restrain would-be borrowers.

One answer to the problem would be, of course, to increase the supply of money. The Bank of Canada has not done this, however, since it would result in an immediate impetus to the inflationary cycle. It is felt to be far better policy to curb the present boom a little than to set the stage for a serious recession later on.

Mr. Fleming may be right in his contention that "the rise in interest rates on treasury bills has gone farther and faster than conditions warrant." But he cannot minimize the fact that they have done so, that the financial plans of the Conservative federal Government have fallen far short of what was promised in the election of little more than a year ago. This is an administrative deficiency that is found also in the fields of trade and foreign affairs and will not be met by declarations that the situation is being exaggerated.

Speed and the Highway Toll

THE THIRD FATAL MALAHAT car accident of the year occurred Sunday—during British Columbia's blackest 1959 traffic death weekend—and Mr. George Lindsay, provincial superintendent of motor vehicles, has provided a one-word explanation: speed.

This is not an unusual statement from Mr. Lindsay. He and members of his department have been pointing to statistics and scientific findings after car crashes for several years to prove that speed is the ingredient which most frequently converts an accident on the highway into a fatality.

The provincial records this year seem to support the case. Last year, from January to August, the number of deaths in car crashes was 163. This year, for the same period, the total is 193. And this is the year in which permissive speed on certain sections of the highway has been raised to 60, rather than 50 miles an hour.

That extra 10 miles an hour has two serious dangers. In the first place it makes the car a more deadly projectile merely because it is travelling faster. In the second place, it reduces the time allowed a driver to regain control of his car once he loses it.

The plain, harsh fact is that too many people driving cars are not competent to handle them at excessive speeds on certain sections of the highway.

Some drivers can, and do, retain command of their automobiles at high speeds. Others have not the reflexes to accomplish that feat. In other words, 60 miles an hour or more, is relatively safe for some people. It is highly unsafe for others.

Prudence dictates a "safe" speed for each individual driver. But when no limit is set, prudence will not always prevail.

The implications of last weekend are that present driving conventions are not adequate to safeguard every driver. Perhaps different rates of speed should be set for individual operators—as they are in certain cases of inadequate vision. A sign on the highway saying that 60 is the maximum is evidently not enough.

Smut in the Mail

WHEN JUSTICE MINISTER Davie Fulton announced his decision on published matter which could legally be considered "obscene," his definition of the adjective was imprecise because no precise definition seems possible.

This also appears to be the realization of the United States Postmaster General, currently engaged in a war against "smut," passing through the mails. He is charged with keeping the mails free of indecent and obscene material. The responsibility for determining what is indecent or obscene rests with individuals.

In the United States, lawyers of the postal department are the first to render judgment. The issue then goes to departmental examiners and thence to the "judicial officer."

At that point the publisher may appeal and carry the issue to the courts, where personal opinion is once again certain to be a factor in judgment.

In an effort to prevent circulation of morally shoddy material through the mails the Postmaster General has appealed both to parents and to teenagers to report receipt of such publications.

Conceivably that appeal will meet with some success. It will not, however, be wholly effective simply because some parents won't know and some young people won't tell what is coming in by post.

In the United States as in Canada the question of definition is the big problem. How do you decide what is obscene or indecent, and if obscenity or indecency is the same to all people?

How Average Is a Home?

TO GIVE RUSSIAN PEOPLE AN idea of one feature of life on this continent, the United States in its Moscow exhibition, reproduced an "average" American home.

Cynical Soviet critics viewed the display and assumed that before them lay a variation of the Potemkin village—a show piece as typical of the usual in the United States as caviar for breakfast.

In the light of this criticism a leading American publication has reproduced pictures of rooms in the exhibition piece and of rooms displayed by National Homes, Inc. of Lafayette, Ind.

The comparison shows no significant difference in luxury, convenience or furnishings. In other words, the Russians were being shown a dwelling with a price tag running to about $13,000 and furnishings worth another $5,000—a home investment not out of the way by standards on this continent under present price conditions.

But how typical is any home? Shall an older dwelling be compared to the new home of someone in the middle-income bracket or to a mansion? And is the average found in the pictures of special magazines, or is it a home with some of the shiny gloss dimmed by comfortable living?

The exhibition no doubt served a valuable purpose, despite the controversy, but Russians can have little understanding of how North Americans live until they visit this continent, see for themselves, and decide in their own minds what may be considered average.

"Oh, I daresay they're clever enough... it's just that I'd like to see them do something original..."

THE BANKS AND THE BONDS

By DON PEACOCK

A Universe of Bewildering Magic

The interest rate in Canada has been front page news for weeks and is a facet of our financial situation which vitally affects everyone. Herewith is the first of two articles explaining the background of today's No. 1 domestic problem.

THE world of money—a universe of important but bewildering magic to the casual observer and never certain to the most expert—is in the spotlight again as a result of recent changes in the Bank of Canada interest rate.

Last week's unusual, if not unprecedented, action by Finance Minister Fleming in turning down some tenders for government treasury bills only added to the confusion bubbling in the monetary cauldron for the ordinary Canadian.

But the minister was perfectly within his rights in doing so. The form on which bids for these short-term government securities are submitted specifies that the finance minister has the final decision whether to accept all or a part of any bid.

The facts of the present monetary situation are straightforward enough. Sorting out their significance is the problem.

Reflects Conditions

The bank rate—as the Bank of Canada interest rate is officially known—is important as a reflector of current credit conditions. Generally when it is high, money is scarce and interest rates on the whole are high; when it declines money is easier to get.

Bank of Canada policy and action is important to every Canadian because Parliament has directed the central bank to regulate credit and currency in the best interests of the nation's economic life, to protect the value of Canadian money and to mitigate by its influence fluctuations in the general level of production, trade, prices and employment.

Hence, the current interest in the bank rate's movements.

For six weeks the bank rate—the interest charged on the infrequent Bank of Canada loans to chartered and savings banks—rose steadily, until on Aug. 13 it reached the unprecedented high of 6.41 per cent.

The bank rate is set at one-quarter of one per cent above the average yield of 91-day treasury bills. Tenders for these are opened every Thursday at noon by agents for the finance minister—namely, Bank of Canada and finance department officials.

Normally, the highest bidders get the treasury bills offered. Normally, too, the government sells the full amount it has announced a week previously will be put up for tender.

Different Now

But last week was different.

For the first time in recent years—and possibly since treasury bills were initially offered about 1935—the government turned down some bids and decided not to sell as many of the bills as originally planned.

Instead of selling $115 millions worth of 91-day bills, as it announced a week previous it intended to, the government sold $91,544,000 worth. It also announced it will offer only $95 millions worth next week, instead of the usual $115,000,000.

Mr. Fleming gave this explanation in a statement:

"The reduction in next week's offering reflects the government's view that the recent rise in interest rates on treasury bills has gone farther and faster than conditions warrant."

"At this week's tender, for the same reasons, a number of bids were not accepted as involving too high interest rates."

"The government's strong cash position has enabled it to draw on its current bank balances which are in excess of $40,000,000 and to rely less on treasury bill financing for the time being."

He said this government action caused the treasury bill rate to decline from 6.16 per cent a week earlier to 6.04 per cent this week, with the corresponding decline in the bank rate this week to 6.29 per cent from its record 6.41 per cent the previous week.

What do these developments mean to the average Canadian?

Booming Again

The strong demand for loans is taken as an indication that the economy is booming once more. The present tight-money situation indicates the Bank of Canada is doing its best to keep the boom from contributing to inflation.

The government and the Bank of Canada are in accord on the monetary policy now being followed.

They have two main courses to choose from in a tight-money situation.

The money supply can be increased. Or it can be held fairly steady with a consequent rise in interest rates, a shortage of money for loans and an eventual slowing of the economic pace to a point where existing supplies of money are sufficient.

The Bank of Canada and the government evidently feel any substantial increase in money supply at this time might prove inflationary.

It might ease the money situation for the moment but cause higher prices later on. This would mean your dollar bought that much less.

This is the kind of development that hits people on fixed incomes, such as pensioners. The value of their money declines while their income remains unchanged.

Bombs Away

THE first of the American aircraft transferred from France have now moved to their new bases in Britain. Soon all the additional fighter-bombers, with their nuclear bombs, and the extra reconnaissance aircraft will be here.

Formally, their use from British bases must be approved by the British Government jointly with the United States Government. Practically, the decision in an emergency may be taken by General Norstad alone.

The formal position was restated by the Minister of Defence, Mr. Sandys, when he announced the transfer of the aircraft six weeks ago. It is that the use of nuclear bases in an emergency "will be subject to the joint decision of the two Governments in the light of the circumstances prevailing at the time."

The practical position is that the squadrons now coming from France are under the command of General Norstad's headquarters, either directly or through the Central European headquarters at Fontainebleau. No British agency is interposed—nor should it be interposed, since these aircraft are essentially part of the combined European defence—and in emergencies General Norstad can act on his own.

Used Immediately

He is known to hold the view that, in the event of any major penetration of NATO's land frontiers in Europe, decisive force should be used at once. This may mean the blocking of roads, the destruction of river crossings, or the elimination of hostile troops by nuclear bombs.

These bombs may be required, in his view, even if none have been used by the other side.

If any general is to take such decisions, there are few in whom it is possible to have more confidence than General Norstad. He is a shrewd, careful, and unobedient man. Even less than some recent (or prospective) British Ministers is he likely to take a rash or ill-considered decision.

He has been brought to the view that decisive force must be used at once only by a thorough study of the opposing military strengths and of possible tactics in various situations. And—no less important—his broad strategy has been approved by the North Atlantic Council, to whom he answers.

The council is, indeed, the one body which can change the present position. It can do so in two ways.

One is to review its own arrangements for taking decisions in an emergency, and the other is to reconsider whether readiness to use nuclear weapons really makes sense, even militarily.

Little Time

Although little is known of how the council itself intends to function in a crisis, such as the imminence of a border crossing or its occurrence would bring, the difficulty of assembling its members within an hour or two is evident enough.

Would it not be willing, rather than to default on its responsibility, to devolve the power of decision on to a smaller political group?

The membership suggests itself—the country whose nuclear weapons are to be used (almost always the United States, but sometimes Britain), the one on whose soil the weapons are based, and the one on whose territory the weapons may be used (most probably Western Germany).

To assemble three men must take less time than to assemble fifteen; and if it is evident that they can be assembled rapidly, the decision need not be left almost wholly in military hands.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Waiting for Civic Centre?

On looking over your beautiful city here in Victoria, and being a first-class landscape gardener, I came across one spot that seems to mar the beauty of the city. That is the old Christ Church site. I think that with the co-operation of the city and the owners it could become a very beautiful park by cleaning up the old stone wall and getting rid of that unsightly rock and junk. I highly recommend it be taken up with the parks board and the owners and trust they will deal with it immediately and make it the beauty spot of Victoria.

Debts Are Debts

If Premier Bennett had, in the true sense, guided the province of British Columbia to a debt free position, the celebration at Kelowna would have been one of which all citizens of B.C. could have been proud. But a great many of us have thrown aside the emotional side of our character and have had a look at a few facts.

On March 31, 1952 the direct debt of B.C. was $197,066,000 which was reduced to $68,615,000 on March 31, 1958. During the same period of time the indirect debt rose from $22,437,000 to $338,161,000.

This indirect debt of March 31, 1958 includes the debt of the B.C. Power Commission, PGE and the B.C. Toll Highway and Bridge Authority.

During the same period of time the municipal debt increased from $174,000,000 to $343,000,000.

The premier, to confuse the picture, has transferred much of B.C.'s direct debt to other ledgers, but it is still debt.

For example the premier says all the contingent liabilities are self-liquidating but we must take exception to this. Our provincial laws show that the provincial government is required to pay 2 per cent of the total borrowings of the Toll Bridge Authority from general revenue. In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1959, the provincial government paid $1,800,000 to the Toll Authority from general revenue.

Another ledger in which the premier's argument may be questioned is in terms of school debt. According to law 50 per cent of the school debt must be born by the provincial government out of general revenue. At the present time the provincial share of the school debt stands at $43,000,000. In his last year's budget the premier admitted that $3,750,000 was paid from general revenue towards the school debt. In view of this how can the premier claim B.C. is debt free.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics dealing with provincial and municipal debt the direct and indirect debt of B.C. on March 31, 1952, was $219,503,000 and as of March 31, 1958, it was $450,776,000. In the same period of time the municipal debt rose from $174,567,000 to $343,119,000.

'Precious' Water

Your editorial of August 14th, "Precious Water," is of particular interest at the present time to residents of Vancouver Island.

While the annual precipitation varies from a low of 25 inches in the Victoria area to a high of over 150 inches in the mountainous area of the West Coast, it is interesting to note that only 10 per cent of this precipitation occurs during the three summer months. As a result of this we experience extreme fluctuations in the flow of our rivers and streams, with the maximum flows occurring during the period November to March, and minimum flows during the summer months. While the average yearly flow of these rivers is more than ample to take care of future increases in population, the low summer flow is currently causing concern in certain critical areas. These summer shortages can only be overcome by adequate water storage reservoirs and improvements to distribution systems.

The importance of water conservation cannot be over emphasized, and every city and municipality should undertake long range planning to avoid future shortages. Indeed, if the population pattern continues to grow on Vancouver Island then some unification of water systems will undoubtedly be required to convey water from "have" to "have not" areas. As mentioned in your editorial this is already being done in California.

Vancouver Island is fortunate in having an ample supply of good water—let us ensure that, by proper planning, the best use is made of this precious commodity.

Drivers for Blind

This letter is written in the hope that it may be read by a retired man or woman, who owns a car, and who would be willing to devote about three hours each Wednesday afternoon bringing blind people to the meetings of the White Cane Club which, sponsored by the Blind Institute, is comprised of men and women whose degree of blindness is so low that they are acceptable as members of the institute.

These meetings are held each Wednesday, commencing again after two months' summer recess, on September 2 at 2:15 p.m. in the Blind Building, 1609 Blanshard Street. They close with afternoon tea about 4 p.m. when the blind are taken back to their homes.

Meetings are usually of an interesting nature, possibly a musical afternoon or quite often an address by a well-known speaker. A number of volunteer ladies and gentlemen are now doing this fine work, but unfortunately blindness is steadily increasing, the registered number in B.C. alone exceeding 2,300, and more volunteer drivers are needed.

You will not be asked, neither will you be expected to contribute one penny to the funds of the club; you will enjoy the fellowship of 40 other volunteers; you will be amazed at the courage and cheerfulness of the members and you will return to your home realizing perhaps as never before what it would mean to you and your family if you also were forced to live in a world of darkness.

If you will kindly write, phone or call fullest details will be given.

"I DON'T LIKE BUTTERED CARROTS, AN' RUFF DON'T LIKE 'EM, SO I HAD TO PUT 'EM IN MY POCKET!"

And Then the Fire's Away

WHEN I was a small kid and a very junior member of the Foul Bay gang, we had, as one of our unofficial senior lieutenants, a red-headed boy with advanced ideas of excitement.

After the leaders of the group had devised the disturbing practice of placing rim-fire blank cartridges on the street car tracks to enliven the lineup when Margaret Jenkins classes were marching into school, "Red" went one better. He found some live ammunition which could be detonated by a street car passing over it. The bullets, to make the stunt more interesting, were pointed at the school.

"Red," I guess, had the instincts of a commando and the erratic balance of a pinwheel.

About this time each summer, when ordinary vacation activities were growing dull, "Red" indulged in his favorite August pastime—lighting up the gorse at the Oak Bay golf links.

The gorse was about as volatile as a bottle of gasoline.

We'd be out there looking for lost balls which had a resale value running from 13 cents up, fair money in those days.

But come August, when we were hunting balls, we went to Oak Bay with some foreboding if "Red" was in the crowd. One lighted match tossed by him and a gorse hillside would explode in flame.

Maybe I was chicken—and certainly too small to do anything about it—but these samples of pyromania used to scare the pants off me. "Red" would strike his match and I would head for home on the run. It was a long way to run from the links to Foul Bay and I'd be breathless and frightened, hiding in the basement, for an hour after I'd arrived.

A psychiatrist could place an easy identification on "Red" and he could probably trace my reaction toward bush fires from my experience as a frightened kid. At all events, I don't now like bush fires, don't find any fascination in them. And I don't like any practical jokes, if they are practical jokes, which start fires or simulate them.

I think a fair number of people at Shawnigan probably shared my views last weekend as they watched a plane dump water on a fire on Old Baldy. The mildest reaction I encountered on the weekend was phrased by an economically-minded man who watched the plane at work and remarked: "This is getting expensive."

Perhaps I'm a little high-strung, but there's something unnerving to me in watching a plane roar in over the tree tops, after its pass at a spot-fire and after it has dropped a load of water. The water seems like a mist suddenly disgorged by the aircraft and a person who knows no more about flying than I do, is on edge hoping the plane will lift properly and slide out from among the hills.

Probably it's all simple and safe to the pilot. The only time I've been flown over the territory it seemed a mite bumpy to me and I can't help wondering what happens if the bump comes at the wrong time.

But underlying my misgiving about plane fire-fighting is a smoldering resentment that youngsters should have been heedless enough to cause the fire in the first place—the fire at Shawnigan or that at Happy Valley.

Somehow we adults have fallen down on the job when kids aren't well-enough trained to avoid these accidents. We're not getting the message through to them.

Of course, there always have been and probably always will be boys like "Red" of my childhood. I've listened to enough experts explain why fire-bugs are fire-bugs. Only it seems to me that in the most recent cases, the cause of conflagrations wasn't a mental quirk or abnormality. It was juvenile ignorance, or lack of thought for the consequences of a given action.

This is the time when adults are generally in accord on teaching children the facts of life in another field. We seem to be missing out on the facts of life as they apply to cause and effect in such matters as fire. Youngsters, being youngsters, aren't all thinking things through. Maybe we ought to lay a little more emphasis on that element of education.

Questions Asked

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Every month hundreds of people ask me to answer their particular question in this column. I am sorry, but I cannot do this. I prefer to write about the topics which I think are timely or important. I prefer to write, not about very rare diseases that will not interest many readers, but about the common diseases and medical problems which interest almost everyone.

Occasionally, I will write a column based on some of the many requests I get for information. I have an idea that it will interest thousands of my readers to see what the medical problems are that are distressing many of their neighbors. For instance, many distracted parents want to know if they should mortgage their little property to take their child with a muscular dystrophy (muscles so weak the boy can hardly get up off the floor) to a big medical centre.

I have to tell these people that any hereditary disease, such as a muscular dystrophy which runs in a family, is not curable because we doctors do not yet know enough about the chemistry of muscles and nerves so that we can give the exact chemical that the child needs but cannot make for himself. I hope that soon—any day—the researches of great chemists like my old friend, Dr. Szent-Gyorgi, will give us the drug we need. In the meantime, the sorrow-stricken parents should not be travelling about wasting the money which perhaps should be kept for the education of a couple of strong and brilliant children they may have.

The point I wish all my correspondents would note is that when an expert at, let us say, the Mayo Clinic, diagnoses a muscular dystrophy, and says that as yet there is no good treatment for it, the chances are great that he is right, and it will be useless to take the child to other great medical centres. Or, when the doctor at Mayo's says that the adult with muscles that tire out quickly has myasthenia gravis, and gives him the best of the currently-used drugs for this disease and helps him, there is mighty little chance that an expert in New York will have a new drug that the Mayo Clinic man hasn't yet heard of. Today, information in medicine is disseminated quickly.

It is true that, occasionally, even an expert will be mistaken as to the diagnosis of a rare disease, and then perhaps another expert will be able to do more for the patient; but for one case in which it eventually paid the parents of a hereditarily handicapped or defective child to keep taking him from clinic to clinic, I imagine there are 500 cases in which it did not pay.

Usually, when it is some hereditary nervous disease which is producing imbecility or blindness or deafness or progressive paralysis, there is nothing we doctors can do. We cannot get into the brain and there rebuild mechanisms which either never developed, or else, after development, were destroyed in some way.

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Greenhouse Needs Work

He was a stranger to me, but as he walked up the road he called out in a cheery voice, "Nights are getting chilly."

That was all he said. Chilly nights, I thought. Cold frame covers with broken glasses. The missing light in the roof of the greenhouse. The greenhouse heater to be cleaned and repaired.

Yes, the nights are getting chilly.

The greenhouse glass has to be washed, inside and out, so that the maximum of light may reach the plants as the days get shorter and the nights longer.

Very soon one of these nights could be chilly enough to need some heat in the greenhouse. What a nice, snug feeling you have when you know the heater is all ready to go.

Most of us are like the cricket who spent the summer enjoying the beautiful weather and did nothing to prepare for winter. We are going to get caught with our glass broken and the heater down.

Chilly nights are the gardeners' sign that preparations for fall conditions should be under way, and these jobs are easier to do while the weather is pleasant.

The few wise gardeners who have everything in readiness will be called pessimists and fusspots, but they'll have reason to be smug, and they will sleep soundly those first frosty nights.

RAYMOND COOK

7-Murder Suspect Near Tears

STETTTLER, Alta. (CP)—Mass murder suspect Raymond Cook appeared close to tears Monday when photographs of his slain family were introduced as evidence in the preliminary hearing of a murder charge he faces.

It was the only time the husky 23-year-old showed any emotion at the first day of the preliminary hearing in the jammed courtroom of this town 110 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The bodies of his father, stepmother and their five children were shown in the pictures. The youth faces only the charge of murdering his father.

MOUNTIES TESTIFY

Constable G. Sproule and Corporal R. D. Novikoff of the Red Deer RCMP identification branch told Monday of their investigations at the Cook house when the murders were discovered June 28.

Sproule said he took pictures of the interior of the house and was photographing the garage when the bodies were found. A layer of cardboard on the garage floor was being examined when police found planks covering a grease pit underneath.

PLANKS REMOVED

They removed the planks and found tires, wheel rims and chains dumped into the pit. These were pulled out and the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cook and their five children were found, dropped into the pit attired in night clothing.

All seven persons bore marks of extreme violence. The children were battered about the head. Mrs. Cook had a contact head wound established by the presence of powder burns. Mr. Cook had been shot in the chest from farther than contact range.

Sproule said he made a thorough fingerprint examination of the house but did not find any of the accused's prints.

National Power Chain Coming

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday he could visualize a national energy power grid stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific to provide an unceasing flow of energy for development of the nation.

Interchanges of power are taking place between Ontario and Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba, he said. In the Atlantic provinces, a vast power pool was being developed for December operation.

"I can visualize," the prime minister told the associated boards of trade of central British Columbia and Alaskan affiliates, "a national energy grid anchored at one end of the Hamilton River in Newfoundland and the other end on the Columbia and the Taku."

This was part of a picture of the "new Canada," he said. And Kitimat, the multi-million-dollar aluminum development hewn out of the wilderness, was a symbol of the "explosive type of Canadian development which has caught the imagination of the world."

He said all 10 provinces will attend a national conservation conference in 1960. He believed the conference would mark a changing trend in national thinking about the country's resources.

Mr. Diefenbaker made many departures from his prepared text and ranged over a wide range of subjects.

He said the government had no tight money policy that cutbacks in loans by the chartered banks cannot be blamed on the high Bank of Canada discount rate.

Any shortage of money that had developed was due to the increasing demand for loans because of the vast upsurge in national development across the land.

Canada can look forward now to a new period of economic expansion in which development of the country's northern frontiers will play a big part, the prime minister said.

"Not only is the recession of 1956-57 behind us," he said, "but recovery has proceeded so strongly that we now look forward with confidence to a new period of economic expansion which will bring large increases in aggregate national production and benefit every part of Canada."

Mr. Diefenbaker said Canadians are concerned now with the immediate problem of finding markets for farm, forest and mining products, but he suggested this is a "short-term phenomenon."

"Our problems for the future," he said, "will involve shortages, rather than surplus."

The tremendous growth of the world's population would mean greater demands for the kind of goods that Canada can produce.

The boys have since been working on the scene helping fight the blaze.

Big Fish Needed For Ladder Runs

COWICHAN BAY—It took better than a 25-pound salmon to win a rung on the ladder in the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club's six-week ladder derby.

The ladder derby ended Saturday with Frank Nosky, of Ladysmith, holding down top rung with his whopping 42 pound 4 ounce catch of last week. The smallest three fish on the ladder all weighed 25 pounds 12 ounces.

The 50 fishermen holding rungs on the ladder will compete in the big fish-off this Sunday. They will be competing for $100 first prize and $50 second prize.

Weekly prize winners for the final week of the ladder derby were Frank Nosky, of Ladysmith, who won $10 for boating the biggest catch of the week. The runner-up, A. B. Masters, of Duncan, won $5 for his catch, which weighed 37 pounds 5 ounces. The hidden weight prize winners were Ron Schoelling, of Duncan, and Norman Dougan, of Shawnigan Lake.

Final ladder standings were as follows: Frank Nosky, Ladysmith, 42 lbs. 4 oz.; A. B. Masters, Duncan, 37 lbs. 5 oz.; Giff Manning, Duncan, 37 lbs. 3 oz.; Bert Van Shalk, Duncan, 34 lbs. 12 oz.

Stiff Penalties Handed Traffic Law Violators

DUNCAN—Steve William show held Saturday.

Young, Glenora Road, pleaded guilty before Magistrate A. C. Sutton Monday on a charge of driving while his driver's licence was under suspension and was fined $100 and $5 court costs or 30 days.

Young admitted driving on McAdam Street in Duncan August 16, although his licence had been suspended in January, 1958.

"I take a pretty dim view of deliberate defiance of the law," Magistrate Sutton said.

NANAIMO—Garry Brian Tucker, 25, of 1634 Oliver, Victoria, in police court here Monday had his driver's licence suspended for one year for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

He was also fined $125. Tucker said he left the scene because of his driving record. He had five previous convictions.

NANAIMO—Test runs are being made at a new automatic sawmill operation near here.

The Mayo lumber mill, with mostly automatic equipment, is expected to boost productivity per man about three times that of the average operation. Only nine men will be employed in the operation, including boom, yard and stacker stages.

The mill is expected to be running smoothly in two or three weeks. After that the company will start building the planing mill.

SOOKE—Provincial horticulturist Alan Littler paid a visit recently to Sooke for final judging in the garden competition, sponsored this year for the first time by the Sooke Farmers' Institute.

Mr. Littler inspected the gardens earlier in the season, taking note of individual conditions. On both of these visits he was pleased with the displays.

Final results were: Flowers—1, Philip Paskin; 2, T. Mesinger; 3, M. A. Snider and D. Lavender (tied). Vegetables—1, A. H. Collins; 2, Stan Rear; 3, Capt. H. Mutershead. Special mention Mrs. T. Perron of Shirley.

"Dear Abby" On Teen-Age Sex Problems

"A girl who is really stacked can well be proud. But she has more problems than the gal from Flatville."

"To pet or not to pet? Is it wrong when it seems so right?"

Writing in the current issue of McCall's, Abigail Van Buren speaks frankly on teen-age problems. From kissing, to going steady, to interfaith marriage, no one says it quite like "Dear Abby". TOUGH TARGET FOR CARLS

Brilliant netminding of Victoria's Gordie Johnston made Victoria goal tough target in lacrosse playoff game at Memorial Arena Monday night. Vancouver's Bobby Marsh managed two goals but couldn't beat Johnston on this close-in try as Tommy Druce of Shamrocks arrives just too late to make check. Johnston made 32 saves as Irish nipped Carlings, 9-8, to move into final against New Westminster. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Bert Wasn't Sure of Label Until Rocks Reached Final

Shamrocks Oust Carlings; Johnston Again Brilliant

Shamrocks 9, Carlings 8
By DOUG PEDEN

Victoria Shamrocks are safely over the last hurdle on their way to the western Canada senior lacrosse final and no one is happier about the Irish position than Bert Bertoia.

Bertoia, who fired the last two Victoria goals as the Irish wrapped up their semifinal series with Vancouver by nipping Carlings in a 9-8 heart-stopper at Memorial Arena Monday night, is limping proof today that the margin between being a boxla hero or goat can be mighty slender.

The husky forward, who is expected to stay home nursing a pair of gimpy knees when the battling Rocks open the best-of-seven final against O'Keefe's at New Westminster Wednesday night, had a busy evening Monday.

Scheduled to watch the fourth game of the best-of-five set with Carlings from the sidelines in order to rest injured knees, Bertoia informed coach Norm Baker a few hours before game time that treatment had worked wonders and that he was ready to go.

Working a regular shift in the hard-hitting crowd-pleaser, Bert used up some extra energy just as the first period ended with the Irish holding a 3-2 lead. He tangled in a free-swinging brawl with lanky Fred Usselman, who used fists and knee effectively, and both started the second session with five-minute fighting penalties.

That one-goal lead in the opening session was the difference as each club collected two goals in each of the other three periods.

Carlings, who had drubbed the Rocks, 15-7, at Vancouver Friday night after dropping 10-6 and 10-8 decisions in the first two games of the series, knotted the count twice in the second session and twice in the third but were never able to get out in front.

Although the situation obviously called for Victoria to not take any chances while Carlings were killing off the penalty, the Rocks decided to go for the ball and paid for their tactical error when Bertoia was tagged with two minutes for holding Wayne Pecknold.

Gordie Gimple got one goal back for Carl's while teams were each playing a man short and Marsh made it 9-8 with almost five minutes remaining while Rocks were a man short, which made Bertoia a likely candidate for a "goat" label if Vancouver pulled out a victory.

But Johnston, winding up a tremendous series in spectacular fashion, was unbeatable with the chips on the line. He robbed Usselman from close range as the Irish three times lost the ball on a pair of bad passes and a poor shot.

However, with the Irish at lack spitting and ineffective in the opening stages of the final quarter, it appeared Carl's might be ready to come from behind a 7-6 deficit and force the semifinal to the five-game limit.

Then Bertoia took over. He rolled partially past Bobby Marsh and fired a sharply-angled shot past goalie Dave Unwin at 3:05 with Marsh's arm draped around his neck. Less than a minute later, burly Bert snagged a loose ball in front of the Vancouver goal, calmly took aim and rifled a 25-footer past Unwin's ankles to give the Rocks a three-goal bulge.

That should have been enough to ensure Bertoia of hero's spot along with goalie Gordie Johnston, who again was the main reason the Irish came out on the long end of the count. And the lead seemed even safer when Usselman picked up a penalty at 7:50.

Usselman, believing he had scored, ignored the play to examine the Irish net and the search for broken cords led to words with Johnston. Then the tall forward pushed the veteran netminder and was chased to the penalty box for two minutes.

Johnston finished with 32 saves in Monday's hectic exchanges which left the 2,902 paying customers as limp as last week's lettuce, while giving him a total of 93 saves while yielding only 22 goals in the three games by the Irish.

Dave Unwin stopped 16 of 25 Victoria shots.

Bertoia topped Victoria scorers with two goals and an assist. Al Gill also fired two goals and Ron Jay and Tom English each notched a goal and an assist. Al Davies, Ed Kowalyk, and Jack Showers rounded out the Irish scoring.

Barbour, Marsh and Gimple each beat Johnston twice and Pecknold and Ron Hemmerling notched single tallies.

Underdogs when they went into the series against the well-balanced Carl's, the rookie-studded Rocks made it into the final on a spirited team effort, marked by hustle and determined checking — and Johnston's goalkeeping.

Refusing to be intimidated by the heavier Carl's, they held their own in the bruising scrambles and appeared able to come up with goals when they were needed.

Second game of the best-of-seven final will be played at Memorial Arena Friday night. The teams continue at New Westminster next Tuesday and return to Memorial Arena Friday.

Tickets for Victoria games go on sale at the arena Wednesday.

Joe's Revenge For Bowl Loss Tough on Lions

By The Canadian Press

Calgary Stampede's scramble to the top of the Western Interprovincial Football Union heap Monday, night by facing British Columbia Lions 29-17.

Edmonton Eskimos, meanwhile, trampled Saskatchewan Roughriders, 55-0, to leave the ailing Roughies alone in last place.

Stamps, sparked by rookie quarterback Joe Kapp, swept to their third victory in four starts. Lions and Winnipeg Blue Bombers are deadlocked in second place but the Bombers have played only three games to the Lions four.

Eskimos, showing bruising offensive power, won their first game in two starts for fourth place in the five-team loop.

Roughriders, with 14 players on the injured list, took their third and worst loss. They never had a chance.

WILL BEAT BOMBERS
"We'll beat Winnipeg with half that score," said exuberant assistant coach Dan Edwards, of Edmonton, after the game. "We'll win."

About 14,000 fans in Edmonton's Clarke Stadium, disappointed last week by Esks' 12-0 loss to British Columbia, saw their club take full advantage of every Saskatchewan lapse to score eight touchdowns and seven converts.

Quarterback Jackie Parker, who tossed two touchdown passes, missed only one of eight converts.

Fullback Johnny Bright drove over for two touchdowns. Ends Jim Letcavits, Freddie Meyers and Vic Chapman, fullback Normie Kwong and halfbacks Joe-Bob Smith and Rollie Miles shared the others.

KWONG, BRIGHT ROLLING
Esks rolled up 562 yards passing and rushing, with Kwong going 36 yards in one carry and Bright making two 15-yard plunges in a row. Parker and Canadian quarterback Don Getty, who took over in the last quarter, completed 17 of 25 tosses.

Quarterback Bob Brodhead went three quarters for Riders, then Don Allard, a recent arrival from Ottawa Rough Riders, took over.

KAPP-DUNCAN DUEL
Mewata Stadium's 17,000 seats were packed for the Stampede-Lions game, billed in Calgary as a duel between Kapp and British Columbia quarterback Randy Duncan from Iowa.

Duncan's Iowa Hawkeyes demolished Kapp's University of California Golden Bears in the college Rose Bowl game, January 1.

Kapp, tossing two touchdowns and scoring one himself on a one-yard plunge, avenged the college defeat.

His payoff tosses went to halfback Gene Filipitski and end Bill McKenna. Fullback Earl Lunsford also had a touchdown. Tackle Doug Brown booted a field goal and a convert and Filipitski added another convert.

Fleet Iowa halfback Willie Fleming scored both British Columbia touchdowns in the last quarter and Vic Kristopaitis converted both. Kristopaitis also kicked a first-quarter field goal from the Calgary 38.

Stamps intercepted three of Duncan's passes, two of which resulted in Calgary touchdowns a few plays later. Stamps held a 29-3 lead before Lions came alive in the final quarter with 14 points.

Calgary had a 21-19 edge in first downs and were ahead 199-148 in yards rushing. Lions passed for 271 yards against 179 by Stamps.

SCOTTISH TAKE LEAD

Police in Action At Soccer Playoff

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Scottish defeated Winnipeg Hungarians 2-1 Monday night in the second game of the best-of-three Manitoba soccer championship series.

Police broke up a wild melee of fans that stormed on to the field at the end of the match at Alexander Park.

The victory gave Scottish a 1-0 lead in the series. The first game was tied 2-2. The teams meet Wednesday in the third match.

The fans began to act up after Frank Varga of Hungarians was ejected from the game for arguing too heatedly with referee Max Pilous. A bottle was thrown on the field from the stands.

At the end of the match, a number of fans milled on the field and a fight broke out. Two city police constables on duty at the game went into action and one fan was dragged out by his heels.

There were no arrests and police said no serious injuries were reported.

Mounties Stay Close to Bees

By Associated Press

Vancouver dropped Portland into fourth place but the Salt Lake City Bees stayed on top in the Pacific Coast League pennant battle Monday night.

Vancouver punished the Bees 7-1 at Portland. It was Portland's fifth straight loss. San Diego, which didn't play, moved into the third-place spot left by the Oregonians.

The Bees swarmed all over Phoenix, 12-0, on the Phoenixes' home grounds. The victory kept them half a game ahead of Vancouver.

It was the seventh time this month that the cellar-dwelling Giants have been shut out. They've now been licked 17 times in their last 18 games.

The Bees batted out three homers. Two were by Jim Baumer—one with bases loaded in the fifth and another with one man in the sixth. Baumer swatted them both over the left field fence. R. C. Stevens hit the other homer with one on in the sixth.

Vancouver's veteran Erv Palica held Portland to six hits. The big blow for the Bees was a second-inning home run by Jim Greengrass, his 23rd of the season.

Portland hurler Howie Reed gave up three runs in the first inning, one of them a two-run triple by Ray Barker.

Luis' Love of Larceny Lightens Chisox Chores

By Associated Press

First thing you know, the Chicago White Sox won't even have to work to get Luis Aparicio home with singles or sacrifices. Little Luis will steal his way home all alone.

The thin kid who gets the fat lead on harried pitchers has put away 42 stolen bases — the top total in the majors in 15 years — on 52 tries. And he does it even though everyone knows he's going to go almost everytime he gets on base.

A cinch for his fourth straight stolen-base title, Aparicio was at his usual best Monday, stealing second and third after getting a walk and then scoring on an infield single for an extra cushion as the White Sox beat New York 4-2 and padded their American League lead to two games over idle Cleveland.

That gave the White Sox a 12-8 record against the collapsed champs — locking up their first winning season against the Yankees in 34 years.

Baltimore regained fourth place from Detroit in the only other AL game scheduled, rapping the Tigers 11-0 as Gus Triandos walloped a pair of homers and drove in seven runs.

It was the seventh time this year Aparicio's stolen two bases in one game and he now has pulled off more thefts than any major leaguer since George Stinnett stole 55 for the Yankees in 1945.

In the National League, Pittsburgh made it four in a row as Bob Friend gave up 12 hits but blanked San Francisco 6-0 in the opener of a three-game series.

THE SCOREBOARD
BY

NEW YORK (NEA)—The appointment of Branch Rickey as its president gave the proposed new Continental League a distinguished front, but contributed nothing whatsoever to easing its basic problems.

Why would a man like Rickey, who has spent 57 of his 77 years in organized baseball and recently suffered a mild heart attack, lead a group comprised largely of people totally inexperienced in the game, into an undertaking with two strikes on it at the start?

The best answer no doubt comes from a major league official who has been close to Rickey for many years.

"Until two or three years ago, everything Rickey said made headlines," he pointed out. "But Branch suddenly became a fifth wheel in Pittsburgh, and missed having his name in print. The suggested third major league gives B.R. a chance to pop off. Anybody who has ever listened to him knows that he is the logical man to head a league that to date has consisted wholly of talk."

Rickey, although in the sere and yellow of his illustrious career, continues to make good deals for Rickey. John Galbreath exercises an option on Branch's Pittsburgh stock valued at $200,000, and the new loop picks up the remaining 16 months of his contract as chairman of the Pirate board at $50,000 a year.

Inasmuch as one of the main points of this baseball controversy is slavery, an amusing note is that the Continental League purchased Rickey's contract. The biggest thing the Continental League has running for it, you see, is Congressional interest in the established majors' anti-trust immunity.

The fundamental problems of the Continental League are (1) players, who are priceless; (2) fans willing to pay to see this calibre of baseball; (3) eight good places to put franchises; (4) financial stability; (5) reparations for minor league territory taken over; (6) the new league's share of the 20 million dollars now in the players' pension fund; (7) time required to build new parks, to say nothing of the cost, which would be from eight to 12 million each.

No one is in position to tell new prospective owners more about the pitfalls than Rickey, especially after his last stand in Pittsburgh.

Branch says the players for the proposed new wheel will be obtained "from the world." If this were possible, Branch would not have had to toss away all that bonus money in Pittsburgh.

Commissioner Ford Frick called the meeting with the professed backers of the new circuit to acquaint them with the facts of major league baseball life, about which the bulk of them knew little or nothing. Perhaps when they fully realize what they are up against, the embryonic proprietors won't be quite as enthusiastic.

Frick encouraged them by promising player help. "I hope that while Frick is tossing those players around so loosely, he remembers me," said general manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians.

"I wish the new league all the success in the world," said owner Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox, "but it needs 200 players. I can't find one."

A couple of the proposed new owners declared themselves willing to spend two and one-half million dollars.

"What are they going to do," asked Frank Lane, "sign 10 bonus players?"

Farmers Reach Softball Final

Mayo Lumbers' hopes of a playoff victory in section one of the Senior Open Softball League went aglimmering Monday night at Central Park as they lost, 6-5, to Farmers in a sudden-death semifinal game.

Mayors had struggled to oust Morrison's Sunday in the fourth game of a scheduled two-game series while Farmers had dumped Gorge Hotel out of the playoff picture for the first time in five years.

Don Lyon was again the big gun in the Farmer arsenal Monday as he came on in relief of starter Bud Ross to nip a threatened Mayo rally in the eighth.

START TONIGHT

Farmers will open their final series against undefeated D & D Tire tonight at Central Park, starting at 6:15 p.m. The time of all games has been set ahead, starting tonight, in an attempt to beat the lowering sun.

At Heywood Park Monday night, Pat Bay Navy pulled even with Tudor House in their best-of-five senior "C" final with a 5-4 victory. Both teams have now won one game.

Chuck Kennedy pitched the win for the Tars, limiting the Tudors to just six hits, one a two-run homer for John Balloch in the eighth inning.

ANY DAY SEEMS GOOD FOR $70,386 PAYOFF

AQUA CALIENTE, Mexico (AP)—Oh well, Monday is as good as Sunday to pick up $70,386 won on a $2 horse race ticket.

That's the way Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Foster of Los Angeles, explained it when they got around to the payoff window Monday.

They had left the track Sunday before finish of the fifth through 10th races, in which they had picked all six winners on their 5-10 pool ticket.

Because they were the only ones to do so, they got the major share of the $104,276 pool. The rest was divided among 21 who picked five winners.

England Gets First Test Cricket Sweep

LONDON (Reuters)—England completed a sweep of its five-match cricket test series with India Monday, whipping the visitors by an innings and 27 runs.

It was the first time in the long history of cricket that England has won all five matches in a series.

Australia had been the only country to achieve that feat before—against England in 1920-21 and South Africa in 1931-32.

The Indians, who scored 140 in their first innings, were dismissed for 194 in their second. England made 361.

Freddie Trueman hurried the finish by taking the last three wickets for eight runs in four overs.

WILL DEFEND TITLE IN MARCH

Ingo Ends Suspense

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson today signed to defend his world heavyweight championship in a return bout against Floyd Patterson in the United States between March 1 and July 15, 1960. The date and site of the fight will be decided later.

The signing took place in the office of Johansson's attorney, Olof Ahlstedt, after two days of negotiations between Ingemar, his advisor, Edwin Ahlqvist, and representatives of Rosensohn Enterprises and Patterson Enterprises.

Before today's two sessions, Ahlqvist and Ahlstedt told reporters the bout probably would be staged in "Los Angeles in March". Ahlqvist listed Houston, Tex., as a reserve site.

Johansson, the smiling, handsome Swede who was in the driver's seat because he holds the heavyweight crown, signed after throwing a fright into Vincent J. Velella, Irving E. Kahn and Jack Dempsey, of Rosensohn Enterprises.

The champion refused to sign during today's first meeting until changes were made in the contracts. A rival promoter also appeared to throw confusion into the Rosensohn Enterprises officials and Johansson's own advisors. However, Johansson signed at the second meeting.

Johansson did not explain his hesitation but it was learned he has been approached by Gustaf Von Reis of Detroit, a Swedish-American millionaire industrialist who has urged him not to sign until he studies an offer brought by Von Reis.

Dempsey, former heavyweight champion who was made promotional director of Rosensohn Enterprises by Velella and Kahn so he could use his influence to get Johansson's signature on a contract, had almost given up hope. So had Kahn, who walked around the Park Avenue Hotel looking as though he had just lost a million dollars.

B.C. Rinks Score Early Upset Wins

TORONTO (CP)—It was a day of upsets as the Canadian lawn bowling championships opened Monday at the Boulevard Club. The events wind up Wednesday.

In first-round singles play, John Linford of Lachine, Que., 1956 and 1957 singles champion, was defeated by J. K. Crozier of Toronto.

Three members of the 1958 champion rink from Manitoba, G. Binnie, and D. Binnie of Winnipeg and W.E. Calder of Norwood, along with G. Neilson of Winnipeg, were defeated 22-21 by the British Columbia rink of William Gavin, M. M. Nelson, John Gavin and Thomas Moorecroft of Vancouver.

However, British Columbia's double contingent of Sam C. Gardiner and R. L. Williams of North Vancouver saved the day for the Westerners by defeating the Calgary duo of C. Rickson and W. Malin, 19-17. Teams from Vancouver and Burnaby, B.C., have won the doubles tournament for the last four years.

Single Business Area For Saanich Set Back

'PLAN NOW' CAMPAIGN BY WINTER WORK GROUP

Council Argues 'No Room for Two'

First meeting of this year's winter employment committee organized by the National Employment Service here was held Monday.

City, Victoria Building Industries Exchange, service clubs, labor and senior and junior chambers of commerce representatives discussed plans for the committee's "plan now" employment phase to begin in a month as a prelude to the post-Christmas "do it now" campaign.

Last year's committee brought an estimated $3,000,000 worth of new work and wages to the area.

Establishment of the first large business and commercial district in Saanich appeared doomed today as the result of a split in Saanich council.

Councillors Monday were divided over a Town Planning Commission recommendation urging the establishment of only one commercial area at the Douglas Street municipal yard site to permit the eventual development of a large integrated $2,500,000 shopping centre.

Dissension broke out in council when Kelly Douglas Ltd., applied to council to rezone a six-acre property to permit construction of a second shopping centre north of the municipal yard site.

The property is situated north of the CNR track—a triangle section of land near the yard site, bounded by Douglas, University and Seymour.

"There is no room for two shopping centres," he said. "It would be impossible to develop a large commercial area if two areas are zoned for commercial purposes."

Reeve George Chatterton, supported by Coun. Harold Todd and Stanley Murphy, supported the development of a large commercial area.

It would be in direct competition with a Dominion Construction Co. proposal to develop a large commercial area on the municipal yard site and 15 adjoining acres.

R. G. Bentall, vice-president of Dominion Construction, said his company would pull out if another shopping centre was allowed in the area.

He offered $92,500 for the municipal yard site and agreed to develop a centre in accordance to plans approved by council.

The shopping centre, he said, would be eventually about three times larger than the one proposed by Kelly Douglas, University and Seymour.

"We have two choices," said the reeve. "We can have two small local shopping centres or we can have a large commercial development, the first in Saanich. It would be a major shopping centre."

But the reeve was strongly opposed by Couns. Joseph Casey, Ainslee Worthington and George Austin, who argued that council should not concern itself with the merits of one or two shopping centres.

"This is free enterprise," said Coun. Casey. "Let the companies fight it out for themselves."

The reeve felt that the interests of the municipality should come first.

R. C. Tupper, QC, Vancouver, argued that there should be no discrimination between one company and another.

He admitted, however, that if Dominion Construction went ahead with its plans to develop a large commercial area, his company might use the property for other purposes than a shopping centre.

"It might not be economical for Kelly Douglas to be in competition with another shopping centre," he said.

Council decided to discuss the matter further at a meeting to be held Sept. 8.

Meanwhile, Mr. Bentall said today his company would approach Kelly Douglas to see if some agreement could be reached with regard to the use of the two proposed commercial sites.

"But I fear it will be difficult," he said. "These things are not easily arranged."

Government mediator Dr. John Deutsch continued meetings in Vancouver today in the second week of his attempt to end the seven-week-old B.C. coast woodworkers strike.

No report on progress has been released.

Dr. Deutsch has until the end of this week to come to a settlement of the dispute, but Labor Minister Wicks said Monday the deadline may be extended for "another week or so."

"This will be no hurry-up job," he said.

The mediator has been meeting separately with Forest Industrial Relations, representing the employers, and International Woodworkers of America.

The union is seeking a 12 per cent pay increase on a $1.72 basic hourly rate. They originally asked for 20 per cent. The FIR has offered 12 cents an hour over two years.

Rowdyism has been almost eliminated at Beaver Lake beach, the "honky-tonk" area of Greater Victoria in the past.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren today told Victoria Saanich beaches and parks committee that prohibition of parking "in the beach area has entirely changed the atmosphere, and very much for the better."

Rowdyism has been largely absent this year," his annual report said. "We think this is due to some extent to the fact that youths are unable to congregate at the water's edge in their cars."

But Miss Bankhead admitted to toying with the idea of going fishing.

The actress then returned her remarks to the press, pointing out to a reporter that "they get a copy of Who's Who and then ask you questions on it."

OBNOXIOUS FAKES (The copy here says Miss Bankhead is aged 56, was educated at various convents and is the daughter of the late Speaker of the House of Representatives.)

One of the earlier stories says she is an honorary corporal in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, but this could not be confirmed with the battalion here.

Proceeding, Miss Bankhead said the press "doesn't know the score. In half the things they write, they don't know the score."

"The press is composed of people who are fakes, and obnoxious, dahling."

But she seemed to enjoy the chat.

ASKED FOR IT New RCMP Chief Named To District

The RCMP gets its man.

And for one officer of the force, the RCMP gets his city.

Newly-appointed chief of "E" Division criminal investigation branch, Supt. Frank S. Spalding, 48, takes over here in place of Supt. J. R. W. Bordeleau, who is posted to an Ottawa job with CIB.

He has wanted a Victoria posting since a four-month stay here in 1950 when he assisted with the amalgamation of B.C. Provincial Police with the RCMP.

"I was here just long enough to form an affinity for the city," he said today.

FROM WINNIPEG He comes here from Winnipeg, where he was chief of CIB, and before that was a series of postings that have taken him from Ellesmere Island, in the Arctic, to Ottawa headquarters staff.

Supt. Spalding was born in Calgary, the son of an RCMP superintendent later to become a deputy commissioner. Young Spalding's heart was set on the force as a career, particularly with northern service. His first posting was to the bleak, remote Ellesmere in 1931.

He has served in New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In 1946 he was commissioned sub-inspector and transferred from Killarney, Man., to Regina headquarters, where in 1949 he became officer in command of Regina sub-division.

ATTENDED COLLEGE Peace River was next, then Ottawa as senior personnel officer until 1956 when he attended the high-level National Defence College for training which he found "extremely interesting and advanced."

He "went to school" with high-ranking military officers, key government personnel and police who were instructed in dealing with an extreme national emergency.

Before joining the RCMP Supt. Spalding was employed by Calgary Power as a rod man in construction of the Ghost River dam, took commercial training and worked for Saskatchewan Power Commission.

He married a daughter of the late Capt. L. G. Dixon, RN (Ret.), who was superintendent of the department of marine, Ottawa.

He has served in New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In 1946 he was commissioned sub-inspector and transferred from Killarney, Man., to Regina headquarters, where in 1949 he became officer in command of Regina sub-division.

Royal Yacht Here For Week's Races

By MICHAEL ROSE

Canadian boats may be losing, but socially, Canadians are way ahead of the Duke of Edinburgh's yacht "Bluebottle" and her exhausted crew.

Surgeon-Lieutenant Ross Coles and the permanent crew Clyde Smith arrived in Victoria Monday night for a week of racing here and admitted that the hospitality of sailors across Canada could not have been more lavish.

The 31-year-old Royal Navy physician who holds the rank of "Sailing Master Bluebottle" is on his first visit to Canada and said today he thought it "a most beautiful country" although "he wouldn't care to live in the prairies."

With permanent local crew member Roy Murdoch, vice commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, he will race the Dragon class boat against some 15 local vessels from local clubs, including the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association.

GOOD COMPETITION For the past two months he has sailed the Duke's yacht against the best competition in Canada and said today that they were "as good as you get anywhere in the world."

Bluebottle competed on even terms with boats in eastern Canada but scored decisive wins over Vancouver Dragons in races over the past two weeks.

Lieut. Ross said that this was due in part to the fresh water sailing which slowed the sleek yacht down against Toronto club boats.

"We've got the boat going faster than we did in the East," he said, "because we had a lot of trouble with the paint."

FLIES DUKE'S FLAG The Royal racer carries little to distinguish her from the other Dragons except a crest on either bow, at the head of the tiller, and worked into the shaft of the tiller.

While racing she also flies the Duke's flag from the mast-head which acts as identification and a handy "weather vane."

The sailing master joined the Royal Navy for his National Service in 1953 as a doctor and was appointed to Bluebottle last December.

The appointment was made by virtue of his place on the Navy sailing team and the fact that he could be spared from most of his normal duties for the two-year period.

However, I am still continuing with medical research work during the winter months," he said.

He is married and lives with his wife Elizabeth and son Robert, aged 3½, in the Portsmouth area.

In boats since boyhood he has competed in ocean racing with his father and at university in addition to small boat sailing in the navy.

With crew member Clyde Smith, he is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Barnes, 2475 Lahsdowne, during the week of racing here which starts Wednesday.

Final racing of the Canadian tour will take place Sept. 5 and 6 at Maple Bay in the annual regatta.

Then Bluebottle and her two-man crew will travel east for the trip to England and a well earned rest.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS Jonquiere, New Waterford return 10 a.m. Friday.

Relief fund for the family of Saanich Detective Sergeant Joseph Armstrong, who was badly hurt in a Montana earthquake last week, reached $2,660 today.

Chief W. A. Pearson, who with Det. Robin Stewart is a fund trustee, said he banked $500 donated by Greater Victoria citizens since Monday.

The Armstrongs had just left Victoria on camping vacation and had put up for the night at Lake Hegen last Monday when the quake started a landslide.

Another volunteer "sanding bee" is being planned for Beaver Lake this fall. Victoria Saanich beaches and parks committee decided today to ask construction and trucking firms to loan equipment and donate materials for completion of the beach sanding project at the park.

A 39-year-old Victoria resident facing two charges of having carnal knowledge of girls under 14 years of age was remanded in city police court to Sept. 2 for a preliminary hearing.

Rex Howard, 1715 Stanley, elected trial by judge and jury. He is represented by H. L. Matthews.

A small Seattle freighter that stopped in Nanaimo after a fire broke out in the Strait of Georgia is under tow to Ketchikan, Alaska, today.

The Delpen, with four crew members and a woman aboard, limped into here after its crew doused a fire.

A tug was sent from Seattle to tow the disabled vessel home but Capt. Claud Kurth ordered it to tow the ship to Ketchikan after repairs were made on a generator and the cargo of metal was put back into refrigeration.

Only four members of the B.C. government attended a cabinet meeting Monday afternoon.

They were Premier Bennett, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, Health Minister Martin and Recreation Minister Earle Westwood.

The rest were out of town.

J. J. Woods, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm, will speak on dwarf fruit trees at a meeting of the View-Royal Garden Club at 8 p.m. Wednesday, at the community hall.

Members of the 2455 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron Auxiliary will stage the final sunset ceremony of the year tonight at 8 in front of the Legislative Buildings.

Frank G. Mulliner was re-elected Monday to his second year as chairman of the Memorial Arena Commission. William Pinfold was re-elected vice-chairman.

Douglas Weismiller, 3185 Orillia, was fined $35 and ordered to pay $37.70 damages when he pleaded guilty in the city police court today to a charge of wilful damage under $50 value.

Police arrested Weismiller overnight after he smashed a window at Diggon's Willson Stationery Co., Ltd., 1401 Government.

It was the second time in a week the premises suffered a broken window, the first time at the hands of a thief who stole about $200 worth of drafting and engineering supplies.

Hair at Difficult Stage?
Try Easy New French Roll

By PENNY SAVER

Hello everybody—I'm back! I've had two weeks of sunning and swimming and just being bone lazy. Now, here I am again, all rested and rarin' to go!

Shops were buzzing with activity this morning. Getting back to work seems to be in the air, with school opening in two weeks' time, and families coming back from camping.

High on every woman's "important" list is a good session of hair grooming—to start out the new fall season looking tops. But the end of August catches many of us with those sun-dried locks at the awkward stage—not long enough for most elegant hair styles, and too long for casual short waves.

Believe it or not, a life saver style for anyone with in-between or long hair is the oh-so-smart French roll.

Wait! The French roll is easy as pie to arrange now! No longer is it the sole possession of the experienced hair stylist. In fact you can fix your vacation-rough locks into a gleaming flatter French roll in a matter of seconds! All you need is this special roller and extra long bobby pins, and the becoming hair style is yours.

Roller is tapered, with little brush inside, to catch and hold hair firmly. Fasten it in place with pin, then wind locks around tapered roller. Viola, madame! a "tres chic" hairdo. Card with roller and pins costs 39 cents.

Household supplies seem to hit a new low at this time of year. The summer appears to have dwindled our supply of dish towels to nothing. Luckily I found some in town—marvellous part terry cloth ones—for 49 cents. They're made to absorb and dry with super efficiency. One towel will do many dishes. They're soft, too, so slippery plates won't slide through your hands. In pretty checks in yellow, blue or red.

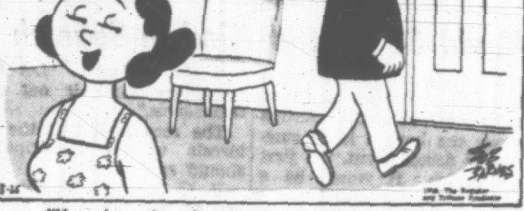

An efficient paring knife is worth its weight in gold, now that fresh vegetable time is here. The Gremilins have been in our utility knife drawer while we've been camping, and most of our knives are dull edged and inadequate. New knives in four lengths—from paring to bread knife size are available with hollow honed, scalloped edged blades. They make vegetable preparation a joy! Perfect for the difficult things like tomatoes or bread, you'll find these a real boon in the kitchen.

Prices begin at a very low 49 cents.

Penny's back! So give her a ring—for where to find these budget-happy values. EV 2-3131.

ENTOURAGE IN PINK

Bride wore a white nylon organza over slipper satin waltz-length gown that featured a full skirt, princess waistline, and fitted bodice with portrait neckline outlined with applied lace embroidery with seed pearls. A chapel-length veil of illusion net was held by a Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls. She held pink rosebuds and feathered carnations and wore a small gold bracelet, gift of the groom. She was given in marriage by her father.

Best man was Fred Elliott,

Uncle of the bride, Leonard J. Rogers, proposed the toast in the seaside garden of the bride's parents home where the reception was held. A decorated pink and white three-tier cake surrounded by pink and white candles and flowers was cut.

For a honeymoon trip to the interior of British Columbia, the bride chose a rose and blue Swiss cotton brocade sheath dress and jacket. A rose-wool duster coat and small straw hat featuring shaded feathers completed the ensemble.

The couple will live in North Vancouver where the groom will teach at Port Coquitlam High School.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Engaged girl has no parents:

How should my engagement be announced when I have no parents or relatives? Is it ever proper to have a very small and informal church wedding without a reception afterwards? Can informal invitations be sent?

Louise Davis answers:

You could announce your own engagement, but under the circumstances, I think it would be better to let the grapevine get the word around. A small and informal party for some of your close friends is a good way to get it started. Yes, it is proper to have a small wedding without a reception. I suggest that you phone those whom you wish to attend and write notes to those living out of town. I also suggest that you receive informally in the church vestibule afterwards. Then you won't be letting anyone down.

A lovely complexion is a great asset for a woman. The most irregular features acquire a bloom when the skin is beautiful. Some women are born with this blessing while others struggle to improve their natural heritage.

Many are embarrassed by periodic or chronic rashes and blemishes. Sometimes these are due to an allergy or to allergies. Today I want to give you some interesting facts about allergies, not only from the standpoint of beauty but of health.

1. The tendency to allergies often is inherited. If the history of your family shows that your parents or grandparents or aunts or uncles suffered with asthma, eczema, hay fever or skin rashes, this does not necessarily mean that you will do likewise. It does indicate, however, that you may be more susceptible than others.

Many folks are allergic to certain foods. If there are just one or two items which are not necessary to health, it is simple to cut them out. However, any drastic changes in diet which eliminate foods should be prescribed by and supervised by your physician. Otherwise you may be short-changed on proteins, minerals and vitamins.

2. Many folks react unfavorably to dust and pollens. Desensitization by injection often helps.

3. One of the more recent thoughts concerning allergy is the recognition of bacterial allergy. In other words you may become allergic to your own bugs if you have had a chronic infection, such as one in the tonsils, or sinuses.

4. Hives are very common. Almost everyone has this once or twice during his lifetime. Hives may occur in the form of a rash or medium sized or large bumps. We think of hives as a simple affliction and it usually is, but it can be severe, causing difficulty in breathing, fever or nausea. Hives usually lasts only a few hours or days but it can become chronic and last for months or even years.

Many people are allergic to drugs, especially penicillin and the sulfa drugs.

Tired Grandma

DEAR GRANDMA: You are certainly NOT wrong. There is nothing "mean" about your refusal to let others take advantage of you. You've earned your retirement. Don't worry. Grandma, you'll get to heaven all right. But there's no sense in rushing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a teenager. I have already had my polio shots and my mother, who is 33, has taken hers, too. But my father said he wasn't going to take any because polio does not strike people after their late thirties.

Is he right about this or not? I think I read where a man 42 years old got polio.

WORRIED ABOUT DAD

DEAR WORRIED: Your

father is mistaken. Polio has stricken thousands of adults in their thirties, forties and even fifties. Tell your Dad if he loves his family he will get his polio shots immediately.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry a boy who works at night. He is 25 and I am 21. He never sees me on a Saturday night. He tells me he is working but he will not give me any proof. Like showing his check stubs. He complains about not having any money from one pay check to another, but if he works on Saturdays he should get time and a half.

Am I wrong in wanting proof that he is not lying? What should I do?

Morning Vows In Sidney

St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, Sidney, was decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli for last Saturday morning's wedding of Miss Noel Constance Richardson and Mr. John Ronald Cameron. Father F. Hanley officiated.

White crystal and silk tulle fashioned the formal wedding gown. Cut on princess lines the bodice had pleated sleeves, and spoon neck edged in lace and seed pearls. Bouffant skirt extended into a full-length embroidered train, marked at back of the waist by a bow. A pearl tiara held the chapel veil. The bride wore a gold cross set with seed pearls and lapis lazuli inherited from her great-aunt. Gardenias, white rosebuds and stephanotis were in the bridal bouquet.

Bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, 9690 West Saanich Road, and the late E. R. G. Richardson. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Payne of Saturna Island and Sidney. Her uncle, F. C. Adams gave her in marriage.

Groom is the son of Mrs. Viola Cameron, Haney, B.C., and the late U. I. Cameron. Best man was Norman Ebner, Pitt Meadows, B.C., and Stanley Murray, Gerald Dick and Douglas Richardson, the bride's brother, were ushers.

BLUETONED SATIN

A ballerina length gown of pale blue satin with a dark blue cummerbund was worn by bridesmaid, Mrs. Kimberly Sacht, the bride's older sister. A similar gown in dark blue was worn by second bridesmaid, Mrs. William Barkie. They were matching bandeaus and carried bouquets of pink gladioli and white marguerites.

For the wedding Mrs. Richardson chose a beige linen suit complemented by a rose toned hat and pink gladioli corsage. House and garden of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Adams, was scene of wedding reception. Christopher I. Taylor, West Vancouver, proposed the toast.

A tailored suit of light beige wool was chosen by the bride for travelling on a mainland honeymoon. The ensemble was completed with an orange hat, orange and beige accessories, and a corsage of orange gladioli.

The couple, both graduates of the University of British Columbia, will make their home in Victoria.

Grandfathers Were Pioneers

The granddaughter of two of B.C.'s colorful first settlers will be guest of honor at a meeting of the British Columbia Historical Association Victoria Branch, Wednesday evening. She is Mrs. H. A. Milman, London, England (nee Genevieve Irving), daughter of the founder of what is now the CPR's B.C. Coast Steamship Service. He was Capt. John Irving, and the company he founded and operated was called originally the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company.

One of Mrs. Milman's grandfathers was Alexander Munro. More than a century ago he came to Victoria with the Hudson's Bay Company and built one of the city's finest early homes on the corner of Michigan and Douglas Streets. Her paternal grandfather was Capt. William Irving, one of the first men to navigate the Fraser River in gold rush days.

The history of the famous Munro and Irving pioneer families will be outlined at the meeting by James K. Nesbitt, past president of the association. Meeting will begin at 8:15 p.m.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Oct. 3, in St. John's Anglican Church, North Vancouver, with Rev. C. P. Bishop officiating.

For Wedding

Out-of-town guests at recent Broughton-Rogers wedding in St. David's by the Sea, included Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Broughton and David Broughton, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Iliot, Miss Leslie Iliot, Miss Gwen Forester, Mr. Michael Seal, Mr. Allan Whaley, Mr. Larry Press, Mr. Fred Iliot, all of North Vancouver; Miss Doreen Heelas, Miss Beth Lauritsen, Mr. P. S. E. Brown, all of Vancouver; and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. W. Goldring and Brian Goldring, of Nanaimo.

Out-of-Town Guests

Many guests from Up-Island points and the Mainland were here for the Saturday morning wedding of Miss Noel Richardson and Mr. John Ronald Cameron, in Sidney. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Murray and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Taylor of West Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ebner, of Pitt Meadows, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Kim Sacht, of Sayward; Mrs. C. Rendle, Miss Patricia Rendle and Miss Lynne Grant, from Courtenay; Mr. and Mrs. William Baikie, of Campbell River; and the Misses Doreen Barrett, Patricia White and Marg Duke, from Vancouver.

Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred George Clatworthy are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on Friday. A family dinner will be held at the home of their eldest son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clatworthy, that evening. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy will receive friends at an open house to be held from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. in their home at 971 Ambassador Avenue. Couple were wed in Broadview-parish church, Kiltiernon, near Exeter, Devonshire, in 1909. In 1913, Mr. Clatworthy came to Canada and a year later was joined by his wife and infant son. Couple started a dairy business, which now, 45 years later, still exists. Besides their son, Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy, have a daughter, Mrs. L. Williams (Adeline) Victoria, and six grandchildren.

Monday afternoon he took a busman's holiday and went to see our courts, only to find they were in a two-week recess. He and his wife "love" the hanging baskets on Victoria's downtown streets. "They set your city apart, make it distinctive," they say. Judge Kaufman has lived in San Francisco for 55 years.

Mrs. Fay Russell, Garden Grove, Calif., is here in her own right. She is classified manager of the Garden Grove Daily News. Mrs. Margaret Linde is "pinch hitting" for her boss, Jack Salm, of the Los Angeles Examiner. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moer have come from Pasco, Wash., railroad and farming centre, and not far from the atoll centre of Richmond, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blanco are from Costa Mesa, Calif. He is classified manager of the Globe Herald and Pilot there. Mrs. Jerry Buschini is classified manager of the newspaper in San Mateo, Calif. Her husband is with her and they plan to go on to Lake Louise before returning home.

Mr. Buschini has a wholesale pie company in San Francisco. Mrs. Alice Duba is classified manager of the Van Nuys News and she is treasurer of the convention groups. Her husband, a contractor, always attends conventions with her. She says: "He helps me to keep my accounts straight."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Powell entertained Sunday afternoon at a late-day party in their Murray Drive home to honor Mr. Powell's brother-in-law and sister, Major E. A. Weins and Mrs. Weins, formerly of Ottawa. Assisting at the party were Mrs. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Nicholls. There were 22 guests. Major Weins will leave in mid-September for the Middle East, where he has been posted for a year. Mrs. Weins will live in Victoria while he is away.

Mr. Sid Siddaway and wife, Marie, of Victoria, at left, assisted in receiving guests at the early-evening party. Mr. and Mrs. H. Hexner, at right, came from Martinez, Calif., for the meetings. Mr. Siddaway is retiring president of the group and Mr. Hexner, the incoming president. Later the party enjoyed a convention dinner in the Empress Hotel and then went on to the Butchart Gardens.

Delegates See City First Time Laud It for Beauty and Charm

Among many interesting people attending meetings of the Western Classified Advertising Association and Pacific Northwest Classified Advertising Group, in Victoria this week are Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Eastwood of Santa Monica, Calif.

They motored north a week ago and have been enjoying several days in and around the city. Mr. Eastwood, classified manager of the Evening Outlook in Santa Monica, has been doing some golfing, and the couple say: "We have fallen in love with Victoria. When someone from Santa Monica says that, it's something."

Judge Herbert Kaufman and Mrs. Kaufman are in the group. How did a judge of the Court of Appeals in San Francisco rate a place in a classified advertising convention? Well, Judge Kaufman is also secretary of the Budde Publications in the Golden Gate city. "That's how I got in on this," he says.

the party were, from the left: Mr. and Mrs. Inge Rancy of Corvallis, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Greene of Salem, Ore.; and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fagerstrom of Longview, Washington. Mr. Fagerstrom is classified manager and outdoor editor of his paper.

PARKS BUILDING HELD UP

A new change-room-toilet building at Beaver Lake has been standing idle since its completion three weeks ago due to a U.S. strike.

Unless a motor is delivered this week, the $9,000 building will stay closed through the Labor Day weekend, a city official said today.

The motor is needed to drive a $7,000 cavitator—mechanical sewage treatment equipment. A strike in the manufacturing plant has held up delivery.

The same strike has shattered all hopes of opening a larger change-room-toilet building at Hamsterley Park by Labor Day.

NOW SHOWING "THE KEY"

From Weymouth, England, comes this excellent drama in CinemaScope, starring Wm. Holden of Bridge of the River Kwai fame, Trevor Howard and Sophia Loren. One of the brilliant examples of movie story-telling. Without making any apology to morality the situation is handled with delicacy and not a breath of lasciviousness for its own sake. (N.Y. Herald Tribune.)

QUEEN'S GRAND-AUNT LIKES TRAVEL

Alice Chats With Reporters

VANCOUVER (CP)—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, great aunt of the Queen and widow of Canada's Second World War governor-general, had a rare and animated chat with reporters Monday night—mainly about the Royal Family's anticipated happy event.

"The family knew nothing about it until they read it in the papers," said the 76-year-old princess when asked if she had advance news that the Queen was expecting a baby early next year.

"We're all delighted of course," she said. "Oh! it was a delightful surprise."

Had any names been decided for the royal infant?

"Good heavens, no."

The sprightly princess, who met reporters at the home of her host, Hon. E. W. Hamber, former British Columbia lieutenant-governor, after a three-day journey from San Francisco, chatted about her love for travel and her interest in youth.

"China is the only large country I have not visited," she said. "It has always been a dream of mine to go there, but I suppose I shall not realize it now."

She said most of her traveling has been unofficial—"just visiting old friends around the world."

Her present trip started nine months ago in London and included a five-month stay in Australia with her daughter.

Striking members of the International Woodworkers of America, their wives, husbands and friends are invited to a free dance 9 p.m. Friday in the CCF Hall on Douglas.

It is being organized by the entertainment committee of Victoria IWA Local 1-118. Members are asked to present their union cards at the door.

A voluntary group of IWA members will provide old and new music, and coffee and sandwiches will be available.

Lady May Abel Smith, wife of Sir Henry Abel Smith, governor of Queensland.

KITIMAT VISIT
She will stay 10 days in B.C.—none scheduled in Victoria—making a trip to Kitimat Thursday to see "my many friends up there."

Then she will travel across Canada by train on her way back to London to catch up on work of several social welfare and educational organizations which she heads.

"Education is my real interest," she said. "It helps me keep in touch with young people and I like young people."

Princess Alice, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, lived in Canada for five years from 1940 to 1945 when her husband, the late Earl of Athlone, was governor-general.

Fire Takes 5th Life
KANSAS CITY (AP)—A fifth man died Sunday of burns suffered in an oil tank fire last Tuesday. He was Delbert Stone, 29, fireman. Nearly 100 persons were treated for injuries.

Climbers Die As Rescuers Conquer Cliff

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP)—Exhausted rescuers clambered up the gale-swept face of an almost perpendicular 1,000-foot cliff Monday to reach two youths who had been stranded more than 24 hours—and saw them die.

Word was flashed back by portable radio to rescue headquarters beneath the profile of "the old man of the mountain"—in the White Mountains—that two young Connecticut men had been found.

The rescuers said they were bringing up warm clothing and food—but that the boys were in bad shape and delirious. Then came a brief message, that Alfred Whipple Jr., 20, of Gales Ferry, Conn., and Sidney Crough, 21, of Ledyard, Conn., had just died.

They had undertaken to climb Profile Mountain—an arm of 4,060-foot Cannon Mountain—by a route long shunned by experienced mountaineers.

Family Court Not Dropped By Saanich

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton assured the police commission Monday that council has not dropped a proposal to establish a joint juvenile-family court for the Greater Victoria area.

The commission in a letter to council expressed concern that nothing was being done by council to hasten the establishment of a family court.

It advocated a joint court to eliminate duplication and to ease the task of welfare and juvenile officers.

The reeve, who is strongly in favor of the scheme, said the matter was being investigated by the inter-municipal committee which was waiting for information from the provincial government.

Ottawa May Beat Us to Traffic-Free Mall

OTTAWA (UPI)—The capital may be the first Canadian city to ban traffic from its main downtown street in favor of trees, flowers and pedestrians. The success of shopping mall experiments in the United States has resulted in study by civic officials and businessmen of the idea of turning a section of bustling Sparks Street into a traffic-free shopping mall. Members of the Ottawa Board of Trade, led by Mayor George Nelms, are scheduled to visit Toledo, Ohio, next week to inspect the U.S. city's shopping mall. The proposal to make a section of the main business district a tree and shrub-lined plaza, was backed by town planner Jacques Greber, who suggested a three-block-long mall along Sparks between Elgin and Bank. Mayor Nelms said he was making the Toledo trip only as "an Ottawa merchant" but he indicated he would send a city official to other U.S. shopping malls if he was favorably impressed on the board of trade junket. Ottawa businessmen were said to be in favor of such a plan; on an experimental basis, at least. The board of trade's special charter flight gave ample proof of their interest. Sparks Street, running east and west one block south of Parliament Hill, was said to be an ideal site for the project. It presently is a comparatively narrow one-way street and traffic could be re-routed to nearby streets without too much difficulty. Early discussions on the subject included the proposal of a one-year experiment to determine the effect of the shopping mall on Ottawa's business establishments, stores, traffic conditions on surrounding streets and civic beauty in summer and winter. Some Ottawa businessmen fear the mall would be another major factor, in addition to traffic tie-ups and parking problems, which would keep people out of the downtown area. The removal of street-cars from Sparks Street earlier this year was the first big step towards reduction of the hectic downtown rush. Residents of the capital hoped removal of the traffic would do even more to make shopping more pleasant.

Just 8 Ounces To Kill Everyone

(See also Page 3) PUGWASH, N.S. (UPI)—A leading western scientist told a "thinkers' conference" today of the availability of a possible biological weapon which "could kill off every human being on our planet." Sir Robert Watson-Watt described the potential death weapon as a "toxic substance of which a total quantity of eight ounces, appropriately distributed, could kill off every human being on our planet." Watson-Watt told 25 scientists from nine countries that the inconvenience of distributing biological agents of destruction is offset by the complete secrecy which can be achieved in manufacture, and the unobtrusiveness and cheapness of the distribution process available. Watson-Watt, a British scientist who now makes his home in Toronto, is credited largely with the invention of radar in the Second World War. He said, in referring to the dangers of official secrecy surrounding research in potential biological and chemical weapons, that the average taxpayer should be made aware of what is being done "in his name, with his money for his presumed good."

Bonner Orders Speed Limits, Deaths Probed

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today he has asked his department to investigate the relations between British Columbia's new 60-miles-per-hour speed limits and the alarming increase in road deaths this year. "So far," he said, "I have received no advice which places the bulk of these casualties in 60-mile zones. As far as police advice is concerned, there is no established connection between them." Mr. Bonner added that the highways department will review the problem "from their viewpoint" while his department make a close examination of highway statistics and all available data on accidents.

FIND DANGER SPOTS "By the end of the summer we should be able to pinpoint the danger spots and then we will confer with officials of the highways department." "Concern for the mounting casualties on our highways should not cause premature judgment on the 60-mile-an-hour zones. The basic fact of physics cannot be ignored—an accident at 60 miles an hour is more serious than one at 50 or 40. "But the fact is people want to travel more swiftly—and where highway engineering permits safe travel at 60, we are simply harassing motorists by holding them to 50. In some cases this is unimaginative."

ARRESTED U.S. authorities today arrested Venezuelan dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez in extradition proceedings brought by the Venezuelan government.

Rebels Kill 34 JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Thirty-four persons were killed and 12 wounded in three weekend raids by rebel elements, believed to belong to the fanatic Moslem Darul Islam movement, reports from West Java said today.

Ike Pledges Western Unity On Eve of European Visit

CENSORED BY REDS

This photograph of a Chinese child holding an empty rice bowl was removed from U.S. "Family of Man" display at the American exhibition in Moscow today after Russians objected. U.S. officials said picture, taken in 1946, was meant to be a universal symbol of hunger.

Laos Charges Red Atrocities

LVIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters)—Communist rebels filtering through the mountainous jungles of northeast Laos have almost encircled the province of Sam Neua, Laotian military leaders said today.

U.S. Studies Appeal For Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is giving urgent consideration to an appeal from the government of Laos for aid to reinforce its police forces in the face of increasing Communist infiltration. Eisenhower said he knew the Laotians wanted more money for this purpose. Asked if he felt Soviet Premier Khrushchev could control the Communist-led rebels in Laos, the president replied that he did not think Khrushchev could control Red China's actions there but that he certainly should have some influence. Meanwhile State Secretary Christian Herter is reported to have told several members of Congress that "the United Nations may take some part in what is going on in Laos before too long."

Ho Chi Returns Home

TOKYO (AP)—Ho Chi Minh, president of Communist North Viet Nam, left Peking by plane for home today after a three-week visit to Communist China and a month's stay in the Soviet Union.

Round of Talks Opens in Bonn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today one purpose of his trip to Europe is to pledge Western unity "in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression" against the Allies. The president also told a press conference that on his trip, starting Wednesday, he wants to pledge once again "America's devotion to peace with honor and justice." Eisenhower met with reporters about 14 hours in advance of his scheduled departure for conferences with leaders of West Germany, Britain and France. His talks with them will be a prelude to his discussions with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Washington starting Sept. 12, and to his own planned visit to the Soviet Union later in the fall. The President will take off early Wednesday by jet plane.

Unity 'By Force if Necessary'

Next in clear words of caution obviously directed to the Soviet Union, the President said a further purpose of his journey is: "To support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression; and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security." Besides their caution to Russia, the President's words seemed intended also as reassurance to Adenauer and de Gaulle—both of whom are reported to have misgivings about the President's forthcoming talks with Khrushchev—that under no circumstances will he make any deals behind their backs. In his statement, Eisenhower said further that he intends to suggest to the Western leaders that the Allies "restate our readiness to negotiate realistically with the Soviets on any reasonable and mutually enforceable plan for general or special disarmament."

'DE LUXE' WELCOME FOR MR. K IN U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he intends to meet Nikita S. Khrushchev at the airport when the Soviet premier arrives here Sept. 15. This resolved the protocol question of whether Khrushchev will be received as chief of state or as head of the Soviet government. If he were to be received as head of government, under strict protocol he would be welcomed by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. Eisenhower told a press conference that as chairman of the Soviet council of ministers, Khrushchev in effect is head of State. Protocol people in the state department, following the book, had started planning the welcome for Khrushchev on the No. 2 basis before the White House stepped in.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Thy thoughts are not our thoughts, and we pray therefore that we be forgiven the thoughts that distort Thy will and betray Thy way. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. We pray, therefore, that Thou wilt take both mind and heart captive so that even that which stirs deep within our secret desires and motives will be pleasing to Thee; through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Island Wreckage U.S. Plane Search Party Radios Back

An RCAF search party reported in a brief radio message early today that it had discovered what appeared to be the wreckage of a United States Neptune bomber and skeletons of its 11 occupants on a mountainside 20 miles northwest of Campbell River. The search party left RCAF station Comox Monday by truck, and walked the last distance to the 4,000-foot level of Mount McCreight. The ground party went in

39 Still Missing In 'Quake Area

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirty-nine persons still were unaccounted for in this southwest Montana resort area today, one week after the earthquake that rocked the Canadian and American west. At one time Monday, the Red Cross listed as many as 88 persons as possibly missing. Many of these were located alive and well. Nine persons were killed and a 10th is missing and presumed dead. At Nelson, B.C., friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney D. A. Ballard have been advised by the Red Cross that the Canadian couple and their crippled nine-year-old son, Christopher, may have died in the earthquake. The family left Nelson Aug. 15 for a camping holiday in Montana. The Red Cross emergency centre at Bozeman, Mont., sent word to Nelson that a couple evacuated had camped next to the Ballards and believed them dead. Immediate concern here involves the earthquake that may have buried alive some campers in the Rock Creek area, downstream from Heben Dam, where the earthquake centred its destruction. Water spilling through the dam has formed a seven-mile-long lake known as Quake Lake and officials say the waters will crest the natural dam formed by the rockslide in from 20 to 30 days. Army engineers began an inspection of the area Monday to determine how best to relieve a flood threat up the Madison River canyon. The nearest town is Ennis, Mont., 45 miles downstream.

Rioting End Urged

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—The African National Congress party called on African women in Natal province today to stop rioting against the government.

Island Wreckage U.S. Plane Search Party Radios Back

after Cpl. W. H. Glover, an airman at Comox, reported seeing the wreckage while fishing at Roberts Lake. In a message to an RCAF aircraft overhead, the search party said the plane appeared from documents found on the scene to have crashed in 1951. At noon today no further radio contact had been reported. Reports show a Neptune disappeared in the area in 1948 but no such plane was reported missing in 1951. RCAF officials said positive identification would not be possible until the searchers returned to Comox later today. Another United States Neptune was discovered wrecked on the same mountain in September, 1951, and was identified as one reported missing a year earlier with 11 persons aboard. Only nine persons were believed aboard the plane which disappeared in 1948. The party that brought out remains of the 11 crash victims in 1951 found the bodies scattered over a 400-yard area on the mountainside. The aircraft had apparently hit the mountain head-on.

STEAL OUR THUNDER?

Ottawa May Get Shop Mall First

OTTAWA (UPI)—The capital may be the first Canadian city to ban traffic from its main downtown street in favor of trees, flowers and pedestrians.

The success of shopping mall experiments in the United States has resulted in study by civic officials and businessmen of the idea of turning a section of bustling Sparks Street into a traffic-free shopping mall.

Members of the Ottawa Board of Trade, led by Mayor George Nelms, are scheduled to visit Toledo, Ohio, next week to inspect the U.S. city's shopping mall.

The proposal to make a section of the main business district a tree and shrub-lined plaza was backed by town planner Jacques Greber, who suggested a three-block-long mall along Sparks between Elgin and Bank.

Mayor Nelms said he was making the Toledo trip only as "an Ottawa merchant" but he indicated he would send a city official to other U.S. shopping malls if he was favorably impressed on the board of trade junket.

Ottawa businessmen were said to be in favor of such a plan, on an experimental basis, at least. The board of trade's special charter flight gave ample proof of their interest.

Sparks Street, running east and west one block south of Parliament Hill, was said to be an ideal site.

'Delighted' Thinking Has Caught Up

The possibility that Ottawa may beat Victoria as the first Canadian city to establish a mall, after ratepayers here approved a mall plan last year, brought this wry comment from Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager John Copinger:

"We're delighted to learn thinking in Ottawa has caught up with thinking here."

"We hope it's not going to be too long before Victoria has a mall although we do wish Ottawa all speed in establishing its own."

The $1,000,000 View Street parking garage and pedestrian mall, approved by ratepayers last December, was to have been ready by this Christmas.

However, the project was delayed by a court action opened by ex-alderman J. Donald Smith, and city council recently decided to re-submit the by-law this December as the only method of getting an early start on the project next year.

Mr. Smith now says he is running for mayoralty.

Just 8 Ounces To Kill Everyone

(See also Page 3)

PUGWASH, N.S. (UPI)—A leading western scientist told a "thinkers' conference" today of the availability of a possible biological weapon which "could kill off every human being on our planet."

Sir Robert Watson-Watt described the potential death weapon as a "toxic substance of which a total quantity of eight ounces, appropriately distributed, could kill off every human being on our planet."

Watson-Watt told 25 scientists from nine countries that the inconvenience of distributing biological agents of destruction is offset by the complete secrecy which can be achieved in manufacture, and the unobtrusiveness and cheapness of the distribution process available.

Watson-Watt, a British scientist who now makes his home in Toronto, is credited largely with the invention of radar in the Second World War.

He said, in referring to the dangers of official secrecy surrounding research in potential biological and chemical weapons, that the average taxpayer should be made aware of what is being done "in his name, with his money for his presumed good."

ON DEPARTURE EVE

Ike Pledges Western Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today one purpose of his trip to Europe is to pledge Western unity "in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression" against the Allies.

The president also told a press conference that on his trip, starting Wednesday, he wants to pledge once again "America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

Eisenhower met with reporters about 14 hours in advance of his scheduled departure for conferences with leaders of West Germany, Britain and France.

His talks with them will be a prelude to his discussions with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Washington starting Sept. 12, and to his own planned visit to the Soviet Union later in the fall.

The President will take off early Wednesday by jet plane.

Unity 'By Force if Necessary'

Next in clear words of caution obviously directed to the Soviet Union, the President said a further purpose of his journey is:

"To support Western unity in opposing, by force if necessary, any aggression; and to preserve the defensive strength required for our common security."

Besides their caution to Russia, the President's words seemed intended also as reassurance to Adenauer and de Gaulle—both of whom are reported to have misgivings about the President's forthcoming talks with Khrushchev—that under no circumstances will he make any deals behind their backs.

In his statement, Eisenhower said further that he intends to suggest to the Western leaders that the Allies "restate our readiness to negotiate realistically with the Soviets on any reasonable and mutually enforceable plan for

On the trip to Europe, Eisenhower will meet first in Bonn with West German Chancellor Adenauer; in London with Prime Minister Macmillan, and in France with President de Gaulle.

At the outset of the press conference, Eisenhower announced he wanted to read a statement.

Reading from it, he then said his trip to Europe has several purposes, and added that one is:

"To pledge, once again, in several capitals I shall visit, America's devotion to peace with honor and justice."

general or special disarmament."

President Eisenhower also called for "a real beginning toward solving the problems of a divided Germany," and new efforts to ease world tensions.

In pursuing these purposes, Eisenhower said, the Allies also should reiterate jointly that regardless of pressure or inducement, "we shall never retreat from our ideals or principles or weaken in our resolution to remain secure as we continue the search for peace."

It is unlikely that Eisenhower's discussions of a few hours each with the other Western leaders can solve knotty issues of long standing. But it is hoped here that the personal contacts will strengthen Western unity and make future solutions easier.

Reports from abroad indicated his toughest tasks would

'DE LUXE' WELCOME FOR MR. K IN U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he intends to meet Nikita

S. Khrushchev at the airport when the Soviet premier arrives here Sept. 15.

This resolved the protocol question of whether Khrushchev will be received as chief of state or as head of the Soviet government.

If he were to be received as head of government, under strict protocol he would be welcomed by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

Eisenhower told a press conference that as chairman of the Soviet council of ministers, Khrushchev in effect is head of State.

Protocol people in the state department, following the book, had started planning the welcome for Khrushchev on the No. 2 basis before the White House stepped in.

Laos Charges Red Atrocities

VIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters)—Communist rebels filtering through the mountainous jungles of northeast Laos have almost encircled the province of Sam Neua, Laotian military leaders said today.

A senior army officer also said that the Communists had smashed a counter-attack by Laotian troops in Luang Prabang province.

He charged that the guerrillas were committing atrocities in an attempt to spread panic through the area around the city of Luang Prabang, where the Laotian royal family lives.

U.S. Studies Appeal For Aid
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the United States is giving urgent consideration to an appeal from the government of Laos for aid to reinforce its police forces in the face of increasing Communist infiltration.

Eisenhower said he knew the Laotians wanted more money for this purpose.

Asked at his news conference if he felt Soviet Premier Khrushchev could control the Communist-led rebels in Laos, the president replied that he did not think Khrushchev could control Red China's actions there but that he certainly should have some influence.

Meanwhile State Secretary Christian Herter is reported to have told several members of Congress that "the United Nations may take some part in what is going on in Laos before too long."

CHILDREN SLAIN
The Communists cut the throats of children and sent their bodies floating down the Seng and Suong Rivers which flow into the Mekong above the royal capital, he said.

Some 50 families were reported to have fled Luang Prabang as the Communists gained ground and probed to within 30 miles of the city.

The army officer said government forces were regrouping in Luang Prabang province after their counter-attack against the Communists was smashed.

Laotian army units also were hitting back at the rebels in Sam Neua with guerrilla tactics. The army commander in the province was reported to have told the government that he was able to control the situation with the forces at his disposal.

Higher Speed Effects Studied

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today he has asked his department to investigate the relations between British Columbia's new 60-miles-per-hour speed limits and the alarming increase in road deaths this year.

"So far," he said, "I have received no advice which places the bulk of these casualties in 60-mile zones. As far as police advice is concerned, there is no established connection between them."

Mr. Bonner added that the highways department will review the problem "from their viewpoint" while his department makes a close examination of highway statistics and all available data on accidents.

FIND DANGER SPOTS

"By the end of the summer we should be able to pinpoint the danger spots and then we will confer with officials of the highways department."

"Concern for the mounting casualties on our highways should not cause premature judgment on the 60-mile-an-hour zones. The basic fact of physics cannot be ignored: an accident at 60 miles an hour is more serious than one at 50 or 40."

"But the fact is people want to travel more swiftly, and where highway engineering permits safe travel at 60, we are simply harassing motorists by holding them to 50. In some cases this is unimaginative."

SAW FOR HIMSELF

Mr. Bonner said he had done considerable motoring this summer, and his general impression is that few motorists exceed the 60 limit, whereas before many exceeded the 50 limit.

Members of Victoria Automobile Club are divided in their views of the 60-mile limit. Some say it is unsafe to the two-lane highways predominating in B.C. They believe this speed is much safer on the four-lane highways south of the border, because on a four-lane highway it is much safer for a fast-moving car to overtake a slow one.

Furthermore these highways have controlled access to them—that is, cars do not turn onto them from side roads and private houses.

Other members believe there is a definite need for 60-mile highways in B.C. where conditions are favorable.

Russia Ready To Shoot Space Man?

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—West German intelligence sources said today that the Russians might try to shoot a man into space during Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States next month.

Intelligence reports from Moscow, these sources said, indicate that Soviet preparations for hurling a spaceman capsule into an orbit around the earth were "virtually complete."

Successful firing of such a rocket during Khrushchev's American tour would give the Russians an incalculable propaganda triumph as well as a spectacular scientific achievement. It would beat the U.S. spaceman project by years.

B.C. FAMILY FEARED DEAD

39 Still Missing In 'Quake Area

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirty-nine persons still were unaccounted for in this southwest Montana resort area today, one week after the earthquake that rocked the Canadian and American west.

At one time Monday, the Red Cross listed as many as 88 persons as possibly missing. Many of these were located alive and well.

Nine persons were killed and a 10th is missing and presumed dead.

At Nelson, B.C., friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney D. A. Ballard have been advised by the Red Cross that the Canadian couple and their crippled nine-year-old son, Christopher, may have died in the earthquake.

The Red Cross emergency centre at Bozeman, Mont., sent word to Nelson that a couple evacuated had camped next to the Ballards and believed them dead.

Immediate concern here involves the earthslide that may have buried alive some campers in the Rock Creek area, downstream from Hebgen Dam where the earthquake centred its destruction.

Water spilling through the dam has formed a seven-mile-long lake known as Quake Lake and officials say the waters will crest the natural dam formed by the rockslide in from 20 to 30 days.

Army engineers began an inspection of the area Monday to determine how best to relieve a flood threat up the Madison River canyon. The nearest town is Ennis, Mont., 45 miles downstream.

FIRST MEMBERS of the 300-person caravan to arrive at Nanaimo's Exhibition Park Saturday after travelling the new Ucluelet-Tofino-Long Beach Road from the Island's west coast were gathered together

Mr. Roy said he was in correspondence with Prince Philip during the royal visit in July and the prince recommended that he try to start a fitness agency "on a national basis."

YOUNG FIRE-STARTERS PRAISED FOR CANDOR

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Two boys, aged 14 and 15, who started a fire here on Old Baldy Mountain seven days ago, that is still burning, are to be commended for reporting the blaze, school trustee Pat Mason said Monday.

"Many of us feel that some credit is due the boys, who, when they realized their Halloween smoke bombs had started the fire, notified the proper authorities," he said.

The boys have since been working on the scene helping fight the blaze.

for the project. It presently is a comparatively narrow one-way street and traffic could be re-routed to nearby streets without too much difficulty.

Early discussions on the subject included the proposal of a one-year experiment to determine the effect of the shopping mall on Ottawa's business establishments, stores, traffic conditions on surrounding streets and civic beauty in summer and winter.

Some Ottawa businessmen fear the mall would be another major factor, in addition to traffic tie-ups and parking problems, which would keep people out of the downtown area.

The removal of street-cars from Sparks Street earlier this year was the first big step towards reduction of the hectic downtown rush. Residents of the capital hoped removal of the traffic would do even more to make shopping more pleasant.
